MONTREAL RUSIES FIGHTERS TO BURNING TOWN

New Clues In Vancouver "Murder Syndicate" Hunt Reported Terminal City Court Crowded For Hearing

When All Seats Occupied Police Clear Corridors and Three Japanese Charged With Murder Appear Before Magistrate; Remanded for Week; Japanese Ill in Hospital Said to Have Given Police New Clues to Series of Deaths.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 10.—A statement made by Sam Pei Tsunda, Japanese, who is critically ill in a hospital here, is expected to provide new clues for the police investigation of the alleged Vancouver "murder syndicate."

Tsunda was a patient in the "hospital" operated on East Cordova Street by Shinichi Sakurada, who with two other Japanese is charged with the axe murder of Natsuki Watanabe, fisherman, who was slain on the railway tracks at Railway Avenue March 30. Sakurada and his companions, Bunshiro Fugino and T. Hitome, appeared in police court today on the murder charge and were remanded for a week.

Police have refused to divulge the contents of a statement taken by officers at Tsunda's bedside. They intimate, however, that startling revelations may arise from it.

HUNDREDS AT HEARING
Hundreds of Japanese men and women were at the police station today to attend the hearing of the three charged with murder. When the main doors were opened there was a rush for the courtroom, where the spectators' gallery seats only one hundred persons. When the most aggressive had gained seats, police cleared the corridors and hallways of the overflow.

REMAND OF WEEK
The spectators, however, were disappointed. When the case was called City Prosecutor W. M. McKay asked for a week's remand, informing the court several developments were expected shortly. The remand was granted.

Sakurada and Hitome were not represented by counsel, but Fugino was. Sakurada and Hitome appeared in court under police escort, but were not allowed to converse together.

In asking for remand the city prosecutor declared he probably would not be prepared to proceed with the case next Friday, but would ask a further remand.

The alleged "murder syndicate" is believed to have been operating for the purpose of collecting insurance money on its victims. Watanabe is said to have carried a policy in favor of Sakurada.

MAN BEATEN STATED DYING

Hotel Clerk Lies in Seattle Hospital; Man in Vancouver Questioned

Canadian Press
Seattle, April 10.—A man suspected of having beaten Clyde Cogeshall, hotel clerk, so badly it is feared he will die, was being questioned today in Vancouver, B.C., Canadian authorities advised Seattle officers.

The suspect had not been arrested. Cogeshall, despite his injuries, drove back to Seattle Monday, but collapsed and was removed to the Harborview Hospital.

His wife told officers they had gone to Vancouver to see his five-year-old child by a former wife. He left her at an automobile camp to go and get the child, she said, and returned several hours later, badly beaten. Cogeshall said a man at the home where his child was living had protested his visit.

INSURED INTERNALLY
Cogeshall was so severely beaten, according to investigators of Sheriff Claude G. Bannick's office and hospital attaches, that the blows on the torso had caused terrible internal injuries.

EARLY SEEDING IS SEEN IN EASTERN PRAIRIE DISTRICTS

Winnipeg, April 10.—Undaunted by high winds reported in both provinces, farmers of Manitoba and Saskatchewan are persisting in their work on the land, according to statements received today from the Canadian Pacific Railway's agricultural department.

COUNCIL AGREES ON FORTY-TWO MILLS AS TAX

Deficit Foreseen By Mayor When Aldermen Approve Small Increase in Levy

Forty-two mills will be the tax rate in Victoria for the current year. The City Council yesterday afternoon finally passed the tax by-law with Alderman R. T. Williams opposing the measure at all stages. The levy will provide 17.54 mills for general purposes, 13.01 for debt, and 11.45 mills for schools purposes.

The 8 per cent penalty for overdue taxes will become effective in four steps, the first step of 2 per cent being added on October 2. The other three steps will be added fortnightly.

Alderman Williams urged the final passing of the by-law be deferred until Monday, alleging that inadequate study had been given recommendations for economies suggested by rate-payers and other bodies.

CHARGES "RAILLOADING"
Ald. Williams said it was likely that the council and Kamloops would be the only cities this year to increase the levy.

Alderman J. L. Mara upheld the course of the council, while disapproving of borrowing. He believed the rate should have been struck at forty-five mills.

Alderman J. A. Worthington said he approved of holding the tax rate down to a minimum but unemployment was now more serious than last year and he could do without them, maybe we could do without you.

Alderman Williams: "So we could do without the mayor."

GANDHI CENTRE OF BIG CROWDS

India Nationalist Leader to Make Speaking Tour Out of Ahmadabad

Canadian Press
Ahmadabad, India, April 10.—Mahatma Gandhi arrived here today from Amritsar with a white cloth wrapped around his head, a departure from custom which he explained to the peasants to resume payments of taxes in accordance with the terms of the New Delhi Truce.

He pleaded with the great crowd which met him not to kill him with love. "A few months ago I was a prisoner of the government; now I am a prisoner of the people," he said as he struggled to free himself from the multitude of his partisans.

He deplored the assassination of a British police official in Madras, Bengal, and declared India could never achieve independence by such means.

If his health permits Gandhi will make a three-day speaking tour of the Surat and Qujerat districts and urge the peasants to resume payments of taxes in accordance with the terms of the New Delhi Truce.

Wheat seeding was commenced by the more optimistic farmers in the Macaulay, Whitewater and Brandon districts of Manitoba, April 7 and 8. The Hartney and Tilton districts of Manitoba expect farm operations to be general in a day or two. In the Creelman, Gouverneur, Mozart and Arcelle areas of Saskatchewan farmers are on the land, and Creelman and Adanac report some seeding. Present fine weather conditions are expected to promote seeding at Aldrie, in the Red Deer district, in two or three days.

When Rescuers Worked In Managua

With rehabilitation work in progress now at Managua, the above picture, taken shortly after the great earthquake which killed between 1,500 and 2,000, is of interest. It shows rescue workers carrying an injured resident from the ruins of a building. It is one of the first pictures of rescue work in the stricken city received in Victoria.

Scott Sets Record For England-Australia Hop

Lands His Small Plane at Port Darwin, 9 Days, 3 Hours, 20 Minutes For 11,000 Miles; Better's Kingsford-Smith's Mark

Canadian Press
Port Darwin, North Australia, April 10.—Charles W. A. Scott, swooping down on the airfield here after a flight over the turbulent Timor Sea, set a new record today for a flight between England and Australia.

Landing at 5.30 p.m. (8.20 a.m. G.M.T.) and 12.30 a.m. today Victoria time, he concluded in nine days, three hours, twenty minutes a trip of about 11,000 miles over the plains, mountains and forests of Eurasia and the Malay Archipelago.

His mark is better by nineteen hours and twenty minutes than the record established by Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, hero of both Pacific and Atlantic flights, last October. Kingsford-Smith's time was nine days and twenty-three hours, a mark which was five and one-half days better than the previous record.

NEVER AGAIN
"I would not make the attempt again for a million pounds," Scott said after his arrival here today, "though I was glad to beat the record." He said the trip had been pleasant enough, however, except the flight over the Java Valley.

His mark is better by nineteen hours and twenty minutes than the record established by Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, hero of both Pacific and Atlantic flights, last October. Kingsford-Smith's time was nine days and twenty-three hours, a mark which was five and one-half days better than the previous record.

HAZARDOUS HOP
The last stage of his flight was from Surabaya, where he spent last night, to Bima, and after refueling, from Bima across the Timor Sea, one of the most dangerous stretches of ocean along the world's air lanes, to Port Darwin, the nearest inhabited point in Australia to the Asiatic mainland.

MENINGITIS AT NIAGARA FALLS

Schools in U.S. City Closed For Two Weeks in Effort to Check Epidemic

Niagara Falls, N.Y., April 10.—Niagara Falls public schools were closed today and will not be reopened for at least two weeks, possibly longer. Action was taken by the board of education on recommendation of the city health officer, who seeks to prevent spread of cerebro-spinal meningitis, commonly called spotted fever.

Six deaths have occurred among school children and many other cases have been reported during the last week. The health officers say that normally 75 per cent of spotted fever cases prove fatal.

CITIZEN TELLS HOW HE CAUGHT NIGHT PROWLER

Got Out of Bed to Capture Man at Point of Rifle, Says L. D. Foxgord

F. J. Munro Is Committed For Trial on Charge of Attempted Entering

Leslie D. Foxgord, 1820 Walnut Street, took the stand in City Police Court this morning to describe how he was awakened from his sleep in the middle of the night and captured a man who is alleged with a companion to have tried entering the Fernwood Garage, next to his home.

Frank James Munro, charged with the offence, was committed for trial after the preliminary hearing.

"I was in bed and just after 1 o'clock, a muffled crash attracted my attention and I went to the window. At first I could not see anything, but when my eyes became accustomed to the darkness, I saw the outlines of two men at the back of the garage. One seemed to be working at the window and the other, with an overcoat on, was standing nearby," Foxgord said.

WIFE COVERED THEM
"My wife brought me my rifle and I put it out the window and hollered to the men to put their hands up. They started to run and one of them disappeared, apparently into a ditch. The other went out to the road, but then came back to my bedroom window when I shouted. I saw his face from the window and while my wife kept him covered, I put on my clothes and went out and frisked him," he continued. "It was the accused and police arrived to take charge of him soon afterwards."

Detectives and police who visited the scene found a large hammer and punch, file, oil chisel, magazine and newspaper outside a broken window of the garage. These things were produced in court. One of the pieces of broken glass showed that a piece of magazine paper had been pasted over it before the window was broken. A wire screen inside the window was bent, but not removed, witnesses said.

Mrs. Lily M. Frayne, owner, and the foreman of the garage testified to the state of the place when left the night before. Mrs. Frayne said there was money in the safe.

No defence evidence was called and the committal ordered.

Portuguese Ministers Guarded By Troops While Lisbon Fights Madeira Revolt

Canadian Press
Lisbon, Portugal, April 10.—President General Carmona and members of his cabinet today conducted the Portuguese government from within the Third Artillery Barracks, a virtual entanglement, protected by barbed wire entanglements, machine guns and artillery troops.

Troops guarded public buildings and occupied strategic points in Lisbon and Oporto in an obvious effort to prevent a spread to the mainland of the revolt which has overtaken the Azores, another east Atlantic island group belonging to Portugal.

NOTIFIED BY CABLE
News of the Azores revolt was contained in cablegrams received by the Premier, one from Lieut. Aragao Y. Mello, as head of the movement at Angra do Heroismo, capital of the island.

TRAINS DETOUR AROUND SLIDES

Vancouver, April 10.—A series of small earth and rock slides which buried the C.P.R. tracks following a large slide at Redgrave, east of Revelstoke, has been interrupting traffic on the main line. This forenoon it was expected the railway would be cleared this afternoon.

In the meantime train No. 3, due in Vancouver at 8.30 a.m. Thursday, and No. 1, due at 9.15 p.m. Thursday, were consolidated and routed to the coast by way of Golden, Cranbrook and the Kettle Valley Railway, the train being scheduled to reach Vancouver at 8.45 p.m. today.

The schedule for other delayed trains has not been prepared yet.

MANION ON PLANE HOP TO WASHINGTON

Federal Railways Minister and U.S. Minister to Canada Fly From Ottawa

Reported Manion Will Join in Discussion of St. Lawrence Waterways

Ottawa, April 10.—Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Col. Hanford MacNider, United States Minister to Canada, left here for Washington by airplane this morning.

No official intimation of the purpose of the flying visit to Washington was given, but the trip gave rise to an unconfirmed rumor that possibly some discussion might take place at the United States capital on the St. Lawrence waterways project.

MET HEADWIND
Dr. Manion and Col. MacNider were expected to reach Washington before 3 o'clock this afternoon, although a heavy headwind prevailed.

The two are expected back in Ottawa on Sunday or Monday.

The plane is a United States army machine that came to Ottawa to carry Col. MacNider to Washington.

Windsor, Eng., April 10.—The condition of King George, who has been ill with sub-acute bronchitis for several days, continues to improve. This information was officially given at Windsor Castle today.

It was understood His Majesty was still confined to his room and probably would remain there for several days more as a precautionary measure. There has been no decision as yet as to whether he will be able to go to Newmarket at the end of April for the race meeting there.

PRODUCTION SPUR URGED BY LIBERALS

Vancouver, April 10.—A resolution introduced at a meeting of the Vancouver South Federal Liberal Association, and which will be discussed later, read:

"Be it resolved that in the opinion of this association the Liberal Party should go on record as being in favor of gradually increasing national control over the machinery of production and distribution and of planning our economic machine with the object of sustaining everyone continuously at a high standard of life and leisure as possible."

Another resolution to be considered recommends the federal government be asked to take the initiative in calling on the nations to create a world bank to control money and credit and "end the present anarchy in international finance."

A further resolution asks the government to establish a national bank to control money and credit in the public interest.

U.S. CITIZENS LIVING IN CANADA TOTAL OVER 218,500

Washington, April 10.—Canada heads the list of foreign countries in which citizens of the United States reside, according to figures compiled by United States consular offices and released for publication today.

United States citizens totaling 218,502 were living in Canada at the beginning of this year, the figures show.

Acton Vale, Que., April 10.—The entire town of Acton Vale was threatened by destruction early this afternoon when sixteen properties had been levelled by fire that started at 9 a.m., and damage estimated at $100,000 had already resulted.

Aid from adjacent towns and from the city of Montreal, fifty-five miles to the west, was being rushed to the scene, but the high wind was scattered the flames in all directions and the situation remained desperate.

A large part of the residential section was stricken and in addition to the buildings already destroyed, many others had been damaged.

It was feared the flames would reach the business section, which so far had suffered little damage.

BUILDINGS OF WOOD
Acton Vale is a town of about 1,800 people, the majority of its buildings being of wood. The structures fell a ready prey to the flames and the efforts of the firefighters were made doubly difficult by the high flying, blinding smoke which caused numerous almost simultaneous outbreaks over a scattered area.

LEGISLATION ON FREEDOM SONS COMING

That Is Suggestion of School Inspector For Extremist Doukhobors in B.C.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 10.—Steeped in prejudice, a small minority who call themselves "Svobodniki"—not more than 500 out of thousands of their religious brethren—constitute the only, but formidable, obstacle in Canadianization of the Doukhobors. It was stated today by P. H. Sheffield of Nelson, B.C., Inspector of schools and official trustee for Doukhobor schools, in an address before the Canadian Club of Vancouver.

Careful choosing and training of teachers, sympathetic contacts, fair dealing and just discipline were making slow, but marked, progress in training 900 Doukhobor youngsters to be good Canadian citizens, he said. The solid bloc of "fanatics" constituted a problem which might be solved only by federal legislation, Mr. Sheffield suggested.

500 SCHOOL CHILDREN
"There are nearly 900 Doukhobor children in schools. We have one young Doukhobor teacher and there are in different stages of training," Mr. Sheffield said.

"Whenever a Canadian official treats a Doukhobor with kindly consideration, whenever authorities show themselves straight-forward, firm and fair, whenever a Canadian treats a Doukhobor as a fellow man—then a real step has been taken toward curing the Doukhobor of his clanish isolation and suspicion. They are not a band of martyrs. They have faults, failings and feelings common to humanity."

"If they remain in British Columbia I predict most of them will become loyal citizens. Of the 'fanatics' I am not so sure."

OUT AFTER PUBLICITY
"They enjoy publicity," he added, "are fond of parade, will not pay taxes, hold their women in common, will not use animals, will not wear wool clothing and are recognizable by their uncut locks and long beards."

The greatest obstacle in bringing the Doukhobors to a Canadian state of mind was their fear of education—an inheritance from Russia, where it was a crime for peasants to be educated up to as late as 1890. They fear that their educated children may leave them to starve in their old age, the speaker said.

Sugar Plan Made
After Prolonged
Paris Conference

Paris, April 10.—The world sugar conference here, after an all night and all morning session, reached an agreement on a uniform price of sugar.

To-day's agreement provides that when the price of sugar has reached two cents a pound for Cuban, the export quotas will be increased by five per cent. This would mean about 225,000 tons in the aggregate, for the seven countries signatory to the agreement. The agreement to-day, it is believed, settles the most important problem with which the conference has to deal.

DRAFT WHEAT
CONTROL PLANS FOR NEW CROP

International Board to Determine Sales Or Quota System Suggested For Countries

Conference, With Ferguson as Chairman, to Start in London May 18

Canadian Press
London, April 10.—Two schemes have been tentatively suggested for the conference of wheat exporting nations of the world, which is to start here May 18, according to The London Times. One is the formation of an international wheat committee to control the selling of wheat outside the country of origin, and the other is an agreement on a schedule of quotas restricting the amount each country would be allowed to export.

"There are difficulties about both schemes," said The Times to-day, "and possibly they would have to be combined to produce effective results. Above and beyond the difficulty of reaching agreement on a concrete scheme, is the further difficulty of making sure it will be loyally supported by all parties to it."

OMITTING NO EFFORT
"The history of international agreements to cure disastrous falls in the values of particular commodities by voluntary limitation of supply is not very encouraging. In this particular case, however, there is such general recognition of the necessity of some remedial action that every effort will be made to find a successful scheme."

The conference will hold its sessions in Canada House here under the chairmanship of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, charged with the task of reaching agreement on orderly marketing of the next wheat crop.

Australia Exhibition Authorities Refuse to Allow New South Wales Premier to Speak

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters' Melbourne, Australia, April 10.—Premier J. T. Lang, head of the Labor government of New South Wales, received another check to-day in his efforts to find a hall for a political meeting in this city. The exhibition authorities declined to give permission for the use of their building on the ground that Premier Lang "acted dishonorably in wilfully defaulting interest payments on debts of the state of New South Wales."

The Lord Mayor and city council two days ago refused to give Premier Lang permission to use the town hall on similar grounds.

Azores, on Terceira Island, announcing that island had decided to sever relations with Lisbon. A similar but unsigned cablegram was received from Sao Miguel, largest of the group's nine islands.

Despite these portentous developments, an official bulletin stated all was quiet in the cabinet and islands except at Madeira. After a long secret session in its barracks quarters, the cabinet announced work on the harbor at Funchal was rushed. This unexpected announcement came just when the city was waiting for some word of the expeditionary force which was sent to Funchal to down the rebel Junta in charge there.

IN HANDS OF TROOPS
While stationed in the barracks the President and cabinet have placed themselves virtually in the hands of British Army troops. A military brigade which has an unbroken record of distinguished service to the republic from the time of its organization. Some business being carried on from the regular government offices, but decrees and other matters must be sent to the barracks for signing.

An official statement said thirty persons had been arrested in a roundup of anti-government plotters yesterday among them the two former cabinet members, Dr. Luro Simoes and Dr. Brice Camacho. Major Arago, who made a dramatic escape from his captors shortly after arrest, was being sought to-day at the homes of friends.

Major Arago, who was an inspector of the air force, vaulted the fence of the prison to which he was taken, leaped to a waiting car and speeded to the airport, where he commandeered a plane for his escape. It was understood later he had gone to Alentejo.

BRITISH CRUISER THERE
Funchal, Madeira, April 9.—(Delayed)—A force from the British cruiser London, sent to Funchal with the revolt on this island broke out last week-end, landed here to-day. The population received the officers and men enthusiastically, and the civil governor of the island wrote a warm letter of friendship to the captain on the vessel, who is charged with protection of British nationals and property in the event of disturbances here.

MISS TOLSTOY

Sought to Enter B.C. to Edit Doukhobor Newspaper

Ottawa, April 10.—The case of Miss Alexandra Tolstoy, whose application to enter British Columbia for the purpose of editing a Doukhobor newspaper, has been refused by the provincial government, was disposed of some time ago by the Department of Immigration when she was refused admission because she had no passport from Russia, her country of origin.

Officially, however, nothing of a further announcement from British Columbia, but surmised Miss Tolstoy had written direct to that government asking for admission.

British Columbia officials would then have taken the matter up with local officers of the Department of Immigration. Miss Tolstoy is the daughter of the famous Russian novelist, Count de Tolstoy. She was in communication with the department for some time. At first she sought admission as a visitor, but later she wished to obtain work. Under the immigration law as it stands she could not be admitted.

COUNCIL AGREES ON FORTY-TWO MILLS AS RATE

Alderman Dewar moved the general purpose rate be struck at 17.5378 mills and was seconded by Alderman Adam, who remarked "the city will be mighty lucky if it can get by on forty-two mills." When he commented that Alderman Williams was always "harping on the tax rate," Alderman Williams protested to the term used, whereupon Alderman Adam said, "Oh, very well, we'll say following about the tax rate. I doubt if we can avoid a deficit of forty-two mills, but I am willing to take a chance."

Alderman Litchfield, Straith and Feden supported the proposed rate. The last-named declaring "this council majority is not a group of ostriches, sticking our heads in the sand and saying no problem exists. We see the situation and are willing to face it courageously."

The council ordered purchase from A. E. Ames and Company Limited at $103 of $25,000 Manitoba 5 per cent bonds due in 1944, the price yielding a return of 4.65 per cent.

W. T. Wright was appointed clerk in the office of the city manager, a salary of $90, after Alderman Litchfield had complained at the lack of interest among Victoria born young men in the city's affairs.

Mr. Wright had been a resident of Victoria for only one year. It was stated, and Mayor Ansoncomb examined that, as you may see, the situation is now rare in the Victoria.

FOUR MEN ON
BOAT ESCAPE
AFTER WRECK

Juneau, Alaska, April 10.—The disappearance of the fishing boat Monroe on a voyage from Seward to Juneau was solved to-day with receipt here of a message saying the craft had been wrecked and the four men aboard marooned on Wingham Island.

The message said the Monroe had grounded on a reef on the southeast end of Wingham Island March 1. Captain O. R. Brown and his crew of three men reached shore safely and have been staying at a fox ranch on the island.

The collector of customs here received word of the Monroe from Katalina, which is 175 miles east of Seward. The Monroe, of thirty-four gross tons, was reported to be a total loss.

JOSEPHINE K.
STATEMENT SOON

U.S. Attorney-General to Give Legal Opinion on Treasury Officials' Report on Shelling

Washington, April 10.—A vigorous defence of the U.S. coastguards' use of forceful measures to capture the rum-laden Canadian schooner Josephine K. off New York Harbor three months ago has been transmitted to the State Department by the Treasury.

Attorney-General Mitchell is expected to submit to the State Department within a day or two his opinion on legal aspects of the case. The opinion was asked by Secretary of State Stimson after the Canadian Government had protested the seizures.

Capt. W. P. Cluett of Lunenburg, N.S., was killed when the vessel was shelled.

The general belief here to-day is that should the United States defend the coastguards' action, the case would be placed before an international arbitration commission for settlement.

SLANDER ACTIONS

Action for unstated damages for slander has been started in the Supreme Court here by W. A. Brethour as counsel for Maurice R. Corrie against George A. Lundie.

Mr. Brethour gave notice in the Supreme Court discontinuing the libel action brought by him as counsel for Dundas B. McLaren against George A. RUMORS ABOUT
RESERVISTS

Eastern Canada Hears Europeans Called Home; British Naval Men Move

Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 10.—Officials of the Department of National Defence were at a loss to account for rumors current to-day that British, French and Italian reservists had been summoned back to their respective home countries.

The suggestion was advanced that the rumors may have originated in the fact that it is customary for British naval reservists who desire to qualify for their gratuity at the end of their period in reserve to undergo certain annual training, and that this training, by arrangement with the British Admiralty, carried out in the depots of the Canadian navy. These reservists usually proceed to the depots about this time of the year, but there are no more than 100 such in Canada.

With regard to those of foreign nations, it is the practice of most of them to notify their nationals abroad who have not yet completed their military service, to return home and put in their period of training. No significance attaches to such notices, it was explained, the practice being carried out in practically all countries where universal military service is the rule.

Cairo, Egypt, April 10.—The German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, en route to Egypt and Palestine from Friedrichshafen, neared the Egyptian border to-day after passing the island of Malta at midnight.

The special correspondent of the Egyptian paper, Al-Ahram, aboard the airship, said plans called for the dirigible to reach the Almazara airfield, outside Cairo, at 5:30 a.m. Saturday, remain a half hour, depart for Palestine and return to Almazara the day following. The ship is scheduled to remain another half hour and then start for home, arriving there Monday.

Besides the crew, there are twenty-five passengers aboard the Graf.

French President, Leaving Nice, Declares France's Friendship For Italy

Nice, France, April 10.—Avowing France's friendship for Italy in his farewell address, Gaston Doumergue, retiring President of France, sailed yesterday for Bizerta, Tunisia, on an inspection tour of the French protectorate. He recalled France and Italy were allies during the World War and predicted the continuance of cordial relations between the two nations.

The President said France must be on her guard particularly "because of a brusque event, the importance of which, both for the present and future, must not be misunderstood." His hearers deduced he was alluding to the Austro-Germans customs pact.

"The very history of the country where that event occurred," he said, "contains precedents full of teachings which it would be dangerous for us to forget. I do not wish to dramatize anything, but we must put things in their right proportions, for thus it is we guard against the other surprises and dangers they may bring."

President Doumergue urged the maintenance of a strong military force in France, in as much as there was no instrument in existence to enforce peace.

"France has acquired too much experience through her own history to ignore the fact that there is no durable peace without a security of frontiers fully assured," he said.

U.S. Attorney-General to Give Legal Opinion on Treasury Officials' Report on Shelling

Washington, April 10.—A vigorous defence of the U.S. coastguards' use of forceful measures to capture the rum-laden Canadian schooner Josephine K. off New York Harbor three months ago has been transmitted to the State Department by the Treasury.

Attorney-General Mitchell is expected to submit to the State Department within a day or two his opinion on legal aspects of the case. The opinion was asked by Secretary of State Stimson after the Canadian Government had protested the seizures.

Capt. W. P. Cluett of Lunenburg, N.S., was killed when the vessel was shelled.

The general belief here to-day is that should the United States defend the coastguards' action, the case would be placed before an international arbitration commission for settlement.

Shot Heard and Chicago Woman Found Dying in Husband's Arms

Canadian Press
Chicago, April 10.—Mrs. Franklin C. Simmons, with a bullet wound in her head, was found dying early to-day in the arms of her husband, a branch manager for Armour and Company.

Simmons said his wife had shot herself accidentally. Police doubted this and expressed belief that the couple, grieving over the recent death of a three-year-old daughter, Barbara, had made a suicide pact and that Simmons was discovered by his wife's parents before he could kill himself.

SHOT WAS HEARD
The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Grant of Dodge Centre, Minn., heard the shot, rushed to the kitchen of the Simmons Rogers Park home and found Mrs. Simmons embracing her husband, a bullet wound in her head and a pistol on the floor. She died within an hour.

The woman's father said his daughter and Simmons had attempted suicide several months ago by taking overdoses of a sleeping potion. Later, Simmons again tried to end his life by gas, Grant said.

"I don't think her husband shot her," the mother of the late Mrs. Simmons told police. "I believe she killed herself, something my husband and I have been trying to prevent ever since they became heartbroken at the death of their child."

Special to The Times
Cumberland, April 10.—The regular meeting of the Cumberland City Council was held on Tuesday evening this week on account of the holiday.

Business was light, only routine reports being received. Permission was granted to the agents of the Musso property to connect up with the city sewer, and Alderman Henderson reported that holes in the city streets had been repaired. It was decided to call a public meeting probably on April 10 to discuss the May 24 celebration.

Permission was granted to bring in a general rate by-law and two school rate by-laws at the next meeting.

SCOTT SETS RECORD FOR ENGLAND-AUSTRALIA

When he left Lympne Scott hoped to complete his trip in eight and one-half days, but suffered a slight mishap en route which checked his speed.

FLIES SMALL PLANE
He flew a 120-horsepower Gypsy Moth plane with a cruising speed of ninety-two miles an hour and a top speed of 108 miles an hour. He had installed four extra gasoline tanks so as to minimize the necessary landings for fuel.

Scott was light heavyweight boxing champion of the R.A.F. while he served in that organization. Since leaving the service he has been engaged in flying commercial airplanes throughout Australia.

HINKLER SET FIRST MARK
Bert Hinkler two years ago set a fifteen-day record for the England-Australia flight, which held until last October, when Kingford-Smith clipped five and one-half days from his mark. Last May the girl flier, Miss Amy Johnston, attempting to break Hinkler's record, ran into hard luck, but completed her flight in nineteen days.

Kingford-Smith encountered unfavorable weather on his trip and was delayed at Atombora in the Dutch East Indies, in an attempt to aid his competitor for flight honors, Flight-Lieut. C. W. Hill, who had cracked up his plane there.

TWO RECORDS
London, April 10.—Within less than a week, new air records have been set in flights from England to two of the most distant parts of the empire—Capetown and the northern tip of Australia. And before many months, regular air service will have been established from London to Capetown, and official experimental flights will have paved the way for regular service to Australia.

The record from England to Capetown was broken by Commander Glen Kidston on April 6 when he landed after accomplishing the 7,505 miles from Netheravon, England, in six days and ten hours. The previous record of nine and a half days had been set by a South African, Casper Enthus.

To-day's new record of G. W. Scott of nine days, three hours and twenty minutes from England to Port Darwin, north Australia, broke the previous record set by Wing-Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous Australian aviator.

FRESH EVIDENCE THAT THE
Ottawa government's rush to boost the customs tariff is not a policy but a mania is afforded by the imposition of a duty on news reel cameras. As most Canadians know, representatives of screen companies and other publicity agencies in foreign countries come to Canada every year to take pictures of incidents and people of more than ordinary interest, for reproduction throughout the world. This publicity has been of great value to the Dominion in its encouragement of tourist travel, which the Ottawa government's own statistical department declares is worth some $250,000,000 a year to Canada. It is publicity which, if it were paid for, would cost the country many hundreds of thousands a year, but which now does not cost us anything.

But in its wild career the tariff juggernaut car evidently is not a respecter of persons or things which come into Canada from outside ports. Having crashed over our foreign trade, it now runs amuck into the tourist business. Apparently that car is at the disposal of anybody and everybody who gives the proper knock and high-sign at the tariff manipulation headquarters in Ottawa.

The requirement that a news reel camera should be taxed for duty every time its owner brings it into Canada—even four or five times a week—is scarcely less ridiculous than would be one calling for a duty on the artificial teeth or eyes of visitors. Indeed, we almost hesitate to mention analogies of this kind for fear that it will suggest other opportunities for tariff boosting to the protection-mad junta at Ottawa. If news representatives from abroad have to pay duty on the cameras with which they hope to take pictures of the King of Siam and Sir Arthur Currie on their arrival at Victoria to be broadcast to the world, why should they not pay duty on their watches and pocket-knives?

In its diatribes on the tariff the Bennett government reminds us of a child trying to run before it has learned to walk. It should have retained the tariff board which was appointed by the former administration to investigate the tariff situation—whether it retained the personnel of the old board or not. Instead, it proceeded to remake the tariff in the light of its own imperfect knowledge and experience and on the advice of a few interested bodies who held private keys to their councils. The duty on news reel cameras is merely one of a score of instances in which this craze for erecting high walls around Canada is doing harm to the country and its people. Mr. Bennett seems to be incapable of realizing that public interest in Canada means the interest of ten millions of people, not the interest of the corporal's guard of influential ones who occupy the box seats at the national Canadian show.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, THE MOST influential newspaper in the neighboring republic's second city and enjoying one of the largest circulations among its home and foreign contemporaries, for years has been ex-Mayor Thompson's bitterest foe, and it let itself go editorially on the subject of "Big Bill's" defeat as follows:

William Hale Thompson was defeated on Tuesday after a campaign which he alone made disgraceful. The election was an election, a dirty job, but Chicago has washed itself and put on clean clothes. Thompson recognized The Tribune as his chief enemy. The Tribune was glad to earn that opinion. It certainly tried to do so. It has taken the fight to him on every occasion during the long and depraved course of his administration. It is unpleasant business to eject a skunk, but someone has to do it.

For Chicago, Thompson has meant filth, corruption, obscenity, jealousy and bankruptcy. He has given the city an international reputation for morose buffoonery, barbaric crime, triumphant hoodlumism, unchecked graft and a dejected citizenship. He nearly ruined the property and completely destroyed the pride of the city. He made Chicago a by-word for the collapse of American civilization. In his attempt to continue this he exalted himself as a liar and defamer of character. He's out. He is not only out, but he is dishonored. He is deserted by his friends. He is permanently marked by the evidences of his character and conduct. His health is impaired by his ways of life, and he leaves office and goes from the city the most discredited man who ever held place in it.

The foregoing comments will prove to most people that The Chicago Tribune certainly was not at all friendly toward Mr. Thompson.

BLOODLESS REVOLUTION

THE BLOODLESS REVOLUTION
which Mahatma Gandhi is leading in India advanced another long step the other day when he swung the All-India National Congress in favor of his creed of non-resistance and made it probable that India's struggle for self-government will continue to go forward without resort to violence.

It is hard to understand just how amazing an achievement this is unless the revolution in India is compared with other great revolutions.

When the American colonies broke away from Great Britain there was an instant appeal to arms. Beginning with the skirmishes at Lexington and Concord, a costly and bloody war progressed for seven years, and British, American, French and German soldiers died by the hundreds before a decision could be obtained.

A little bit later came the French revolution. Wise leadership, according to most historians, could have made this a peaceful affair; but wise leadership was not forthcoming, and months of wrangling finally led to the September massacres, the reign of terror and the repeated foreign invasions that finally brought Napoleon to the top. To this day no one knows how many lives were lost. The number was appallingly high.

In more recent times the unforgettable example is the Russian revolution—the bloodiest of all revolutions, perhaps, since the first slave revolted against his masters. For years the fighting dragged on. It has been said that more Russians were killed in the revolution than in the World War; and it is just possible that the end is not yet.

But Gandhi has handled things differently in India. He has had, luckily, the advantage of dealing with rulers who were far more intelligent than those involved in these other revolutions; but the tension has been quite as high, and the possibilities for prolonged and desperate fighting have been quite as good. India contains more than 300,000,000 people. The demand for self-government is probably widespread; yet at the same time the retention of India within the empire is more important to Britain today than the retention of the American colonies was in 1776.

But Gandhi sticks to his doctrine of peace, and with a sympathetic British people it begins to look as if he would carry the day. The importance of this achievement can hardly be overestimated. In a world that has almost invariably used force to gain its ends, Gandhi has demonstrated that other means can be more effective. A revolution without an appeal to arms is, indeed, something new under the sun.

TIT FOR TAT

IN THE TWELVE MONTHS ENDING
with February last year Canada sold to New Zealand goods valued at $19,947,269, and bought from that Dominion goods with a value of $14,962,187, a total turnover of just a little less than $35,000,000, with a balance in this country's favor of nearly $5,000,000. In the twelve months ending with February of this year our sales to New Zealand totaled $13,611,706, and our purchases dropped to $9,346,123, a total turnover of not quite $23,000,000, giving this Dominion an advantage of a little more than $4,000,000.

The figures we have quoted show that in twelve months a $35,000,000 business has dropped to a $23,000,000 business, the proportionate balance in this country's favor remaining about the same. What has taken place is simply explained. Canada almost cut out her butter purchases from New Zealand and New Zealand is getting her automobiles from other countries instead of this. Hon. H. H. Stevens is Canada's Minister of Trade and Commerce and he represents British Columbia in the Bennett government, and Vancouver is his home town. This is how The Vancouver Province gives voice to its lament over the loss of business which used to move briskly through the Mainland port:

New Zealand was shipping about four million pounds of butter a month to Canada and Canada was sending an average of 650 motor cars a month, and a lot of tires, to the southern Dominion. Today the trade in these two commodities is only the ghost of its former self. The prevailing depression cut it down a bit, no doubt. But tariffs put the real extinguisher upon it. In January, butter imports from New Zealand amounted to 1,798 pounds and in February to 132,338 pounds. In January, Canada sent 225 motor cars to New Zealand, and in February four.

It is very unfortunate that things have gone New Zealand's way. Trade between Canada and New Zealand should be increasing instead of decreasing, and, no doubt, steps will be taken, presently, to put it back where it belongs. Meanwhile political considerations appear to have been allowed to prevail unduly. Canada's tariff on butter came as a result of last summer's election, and New Zealand's tariff on motor cars came by way of retaliation. The results so far as can be seen, has not been of any real benefit to either country. Canada is not making her own butter. She is importing from Australia. Nor is New Zealand making her own motor cars.

The Province makes no mistake in saying that tariffs put the "real extinguisher" on this trade. They are not only putting the extinguisher on our business with the sister Dominion of New Zealand; they are putting it on our business with many other countries. That is why we are about $600,000,000 short in our trading for the fiscal year which ended last month. And if the government's mania for higher customs duties shall be allowed to grow worse—the tariff is due for another boost during the present session of Parliament—trade contraction is bound to continue.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BACK TO NOAH
The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

Details of the discovery in Mesopotamia, announced by Sir Stephen Langford, director of the Oxford University-Field Museum expedition, that ruins have been found which bear marks of an ancient flood, possibly that mentioned in Genesis, will be awaited by the world with interest.

The operations were near Babylon. Sixty men were put to work leveling away mounds because there was nothing else for them to do. They came upon a wall and two gateways of a Persian palace, the date of which was set at 350 A.D. Beneath these were various levels of other civilizations, one rising on top of the other. At the bottom were the structures of what it is thought may prove to be the earliest of all the cultures. Here it was that the water marks were found, and it is here that the quest of the scientists will be most intensive.

AGAINST AND FOR CARTOON FILMS
The New York Times

An unusual manifestation of censorship is the news from Denmark that "Mickey Mouse" and his animated cartoon playmates will be banned from that country as being too "macabre." Macabre some of them are, as those who saw the famous skeleton dance in the graveyard will admit. But they are so delightful satires on human beings, that banning them is akin to exiling Mother Goose.

The current issue of The Theatre Guild Magazine contains an article by Mr. Beaver-Mann hailing the animated cartoon as the most intelligent treatment of film motion to be found in America to-day and this country's chief contribution to the art of the motion picture. "Like the better Russian films or a film by Chaplin, the cartoon film is planned to strike at the emotional centre of the spectator. It is the only type of American film that has consistently shown a correct application of the function of sound in relation to the visual image," he writes.

Whatever its status as art, the animated cartoon is one of the most popular features of motion-picture programmes in this country.

A THOUGHT

Loose Ends

New York looks at us in speechless admiration—a diabolical idea is propagated in England—an idol of Victoria is understood in Vancouver—and a great wrong is righted.

By H. E. W.

WHILE I have no interest whatever in politics, and can never understand what they are all about, I am intrigued by an article in The New York Times, concerning politics in British Columbia. Evidently politics in British Columbia must be quite remarkable when the greatest organ of American journalism, with plenty of other news, bothers to discuss them. Why this should be, I don't know, and I am not going to inflict all the "York Times" views on you, even though they may be more interesting than anything I am likely to write myself. The dispatch says, among other things, that the headquarters of the great Conservative Party in Ottawa are alarmed at the goings-on of their political brethren here, are distressed at the "spirit approaching open revolt among Conservatives in the party organizations" and would not be surprised if Premier Tominie retired to become a Senator.

WITH THAT, as I say, I am not concerned, and I have no idea of its truth or otherwise, since such things leave me quite cold. What does interest me is the fact that The Times discusses the new 1 per cent income tax in British Columbia and yet, at the top of its article, assures us that "Almost Everybody in Canada is Happy." The only unhappy ones being the leaders of the Conservative Party apparently. It is evident to me that the American press has an opinion of the character of British Columbians so exalted that I blush even to think of it. I mean to say, when we are represented to the world at large as being quite happy, despite the new 1 per cent income tax, why then I feel that, to justify this remarkable estimate of our fortune, we really ought to pay the tax without complaint, or even double it. When he realizes the fine name he bears in the world, no British Columbian will object to having the tax taken off his weekly pay check. In a province inhabited by this unique species, the happy taxpayer, I feel it would be a still finer gesture, a crowning evidence of our patriotism and so much simpler for everybody, if the government would just take the whole pay check and allow us 1 per cent for ourselves. Then our happiness would be something not only to intrigue The New York Times but, to inspire the world.

FROM PHOTOGRAPHS in an English paper I see that they are going to erect a fine statue to Thomas Hardy, the novelist, over the site of this is fit and proper, but there is just one feature of the statue of Hardy which I find rather hard to get used to. The poor man is shown quite naked. I suppose it is all right when you get used to the idea, and doubtless the nude figure of a man, carved in heroic mold, is more artistic than I have any found rather depressing in mid-Victorian monuments. But why single out poor Hardy for this distinction when everybody else is given clothes of some kind? I mean to say, when a man has worn clothes in public all his life it hardly seems fair to make him stand bare in perpetuity before the eyes of the world after he is dead.

I HAVE NO DOUBT we should be a better, a stronger and a more moral race if we were naked all the time (and certainly the female half of the race could be much colder than in the present costume), but the point is that we don't. We wear clothes according to our peculiar convention, and we feel indecent without them. No man wants to die with the fear that he may be represented as indecent before irreverent generations yet unborn. And as no one knows when he may become famous and acquire a monument, it is just as well to nip this nude statue idea in the bud. The stout gentlemen who cling to the walls of our own Parliament Buildings are ugly enough, but strip them of clothing, or, worse still, replace them with images of our present-day provincial statesmen in that artists call "the almighty" and then—well, the spectacle just sickens the mind and makes the imagination grow faint. The trouble is not that we are too indecent when nude, but too ugly to be revealed. It is just as well that our descendants remain happily in ignorance of us.

ALL SUGGESTIONS from shallow-minded outsiders concerning the backwardness of Victoria I have invariably repelled with scorn. I have always held, and do yet, that Victoria is one of the most forward-looking and daring communities in America. If you seek proof of such a statement you have only to regard the Legislature which sits in Victoria and its works, which include such experimental legislation as no other British parliament has yet undertaken. Yet in the face of such evidence I can understand the distorted notions of outsiders concerning us when I hear of such incidents as that which a faithful reader brought to my attention to-day.

HE SAID he had been in business in Victoria up to thirty-three years ago, when he moved to Vancouver. When he returned here the other day after his long absence, he thought he would like to look at his former offices, for old time's sake. These offices, it seems, were in a building in an older part of the city, but still used for office purposes. You can imagine my friend's amazement, then, when he found, after his thirty-three years' absence, that his name, and the name of his firm, were still printed on the glass doors of his old premises, though many other firms had used them in the interim. No one had bothered to remove these signs. To an outsider, who has imbibed the hectic spirit of Vancouver, this seemed a splendid joke on Victoria, and will be told over on the Mainland as such. To a Vancouverite, of course, it was impossible to explain that this was no evidence of Victoria's backwardness; that it was just another proof of this community's foresight. Victoria may have to wait thirty-three years, but it is confident that, once having been here, every sensible man is bound to return. So there really is no need to change his sign in the meantime. But you can never teach Vancouver these finer points of spacious living.

THE LITTLE GIRL from next door, whose evidence I usually find highly unreliable, has just been over to tell me that the poor little wild boar is no longer to be seen in his cage at Beacon Hill Park. The wooden floor, from which he used to get splinters in his nose, has been removed, she asserts, and the inmate of the enclosure has disappeared. I hope this may be so, not only because it rights a great wrong to a defenceless animal, but because it vindicates this column. Long ago, so long that no one will remember it, and the city authorities no doubt will deny it altogether, I made a magnificent demand for the liberation of the poor little boar, and even suggested that the City Council should try rubbing its nose around on a rough floor for a few days so that it could appreciate the sufferings of its prisoner.

IF IT BE true that the poor wild boar has been liberated, or even given a better home, I feel that the existence of this column has been justified, and as I have been looking for a justification for a very long time, you cannot blame me for feeling rather good to-day. After all, a column which can save the dying maple trees of Parliament Square and liberate the city's prisoner, has not lived in vain. If I can only get justice or a merciful death for the Little White Bear, together with a complete change in our present civilization, I should feel I was entitled to retire.

MRS. WATERS CHIEF FACTOR OF LOCAL POST

B.C. Native Daughters Elect Officers at Annual Meeting Wednesday

Reports Show Many Community and Charitable Undertakings During Year

Mrs. T. P. Waters was elected chief factor of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, at the annual meeting held in the New Thought Hall on Wednesday evening. Miss E. Neelands, the retiring chief factor, presiding. Other officers elected were: Past Chief Factor, Miss E. Neelands; vice factor, Mrs. Cecil Davies; chaplain, Mrs. F. Webb; historian, Mrs. E. Kinsman; treasurer, Mrs. J. King; secretary, Miss A. Chroa; guides, Miss L. Smithurst and Mrs. L. Lorimer; inner sentinel, Mrs. J. Mackintosh; outer sentinel, Mrs. F. Pomeroy.

REPORTS READ

Reports read by Miss Mae McCormick, secretary; Mrs. J. King, treasurer; Mrs. E. Kinsman, historian; Miss M. Crow, librarian; and Miss J. Lorimer, auditor, showed that the year had been a great success, both financially and socially in the matter of achievement. Funds were raised by means of a garden fete at the home of Mrs. E. J. Higgins, Elliot Street, in August; tea at the Y.W.C.A. in November; bridge party at Spencer's in February; home cooking and novelty sale in Spencer's; pictures in Old Victoria shown by A. H. Maynard in March.

MANY BENEFACTIONS

During the year the Post has given donations of money to the Solarium, the Salvation Army, the Good Fellowship Club, the Unemployed Children's Christmas Tree and the Barkerville Church in the Cariboo. Two shows were held for the Friendly Help, a Halloween party given to the children in the Children's Aid Home. Thirteen pairs of pyjamas were also made and delivered to the Children's Aid Home. Easter novelties were distributed to the patients in the men's and women's wards of the Jubilee Hospital. A medal has been donated to the Victoria Musical Festival.

On May 24 a "good citizenship" medal was presented to F. Landsberg. On March 11 three pictures were presented to the Oaklands School to commemorate the arrival at Fort Victoria, in 1850, of the first governor of the Island, Richard Blanshard. The Native Sons and Daughters employed a picnic in June at the home of Mrs. T. P. Waters, Cordova Bay, and in December a Christmas party at the old Craigflower School. The Craigflower School committee has been working very hard, preparing for a reunion of teachers and pupils of the school to be held there this summer.

Mrs. de Pencier New President Vancouver Club

Vancouver, April 10.—Mrs. A. U. de Pencier was elected president of the Vancouver Women's Canadian Club at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon. In appreciation of the work accomplished in the club's interests during the last two years, Miss Ross, retiring president, was presented with a gold and onyx pen and stand by Mrs. de Pencier. The party later repaired to the home of Mrs. de Pencier, where refreshments were served to Mrs. de Pencier, retiring president, and Mrs. Forbes, pianist.

Paris, April 10.—Baroness Therese James Edouard de Rothschild, who died in 1881, died yesterday at the age of eighty-four. She was widely known as a philanthropist, and during the war she distinguished herself by her services to the Red Cross.

HUNDREDS SEE GRADUATION CEREMONIES

St. Joseph's Class in Colorful and Impressive Exercises Yesterday Evening

Bishop Murray and Mayor Remind Graduates of New Responsibilities

Year by year the graduation exercises of the nursing school of St. Joseph's Hospital draws an increasingly larger crowd, and yesterday evening, on the occasion of this annual event, the accommodation of the auditorium of St. Ann's Academy, where the exercises are staged, proved altogether inadequate and many spectators were forced to stand while others grouped on the stairs and around the doorways leading into the hall, so keen was the interest. Graduates and probationers in their snowy and of color provided by the scarlet and white ribbons of their alma mater, were seated in tiers on the stage, while backed around the front of the proscenium and on the piano were the lovely floral tributes sent to the graduating nurses, a vivid splash of color.

MUSICAL NUMBERS

Rev. Gerald C. Murray, Bishop of Victoria, presided, and addressed the graduating class; Dr. T. W. Barrett, assisted by the Mother Provincial and Mayor H. Anson, presented the medals and diplomas. Brief addresses were given by Dr. J. M. Fowler, president of St. Joseph's Hospital staff, and by Dr. G. F. Aylward, a delightful musical programme included songs by Miss Josephine Charlebois, Miss Dorothy Hartree, L.A.B., and James Hunter, a violin solo by Brian Burdon-Murphy with Desmond Burdon-Murphy acting as accompanist.

DIPLOMAS GIVEN

Diplomas and medals were presented to the following: Alice K. Pye, Victoria; Jessie A. McDonald, Vancouver; Evelyn D. Rice, Prince Rupert; Eva Fontana, Vernon; Man; Olive V. Tann, Edmonton; Alta; Edna Hollis, Kamloops; E. Ray Holland, Kamloops; Doris Gray, Creelman, Sask.; Yvonne R. Kelway, Victoria; Finola Collins, Victoria; Dorothy Dixon, Victoria; Catherine O'Brien, Victoria; Kathleen Ringshaw, Victoria; Grace Gray, Creelman, Sask.; Muriel A. Moore, Victoria; Margaret M. Lacey, Victoria; Mary M. Inoum, Victoria; A. Isabel Frost, Albert; Marjorie Liddle, Victoria; Mabel O. McLean, Victoria; Edna E. Custison, Nanaimo; Violet I. Fletcher, Ucluelet; Margaret J. DuMont, Bridgeville; Gertrude M. Bosley, Bellevue, Alta.; Sister Mary Justina, Sister Mary Albert, also to Elaine Carboneau of Vancouver and to the staff of Kamloops for pathological laboratory technique, and to Catherine Reid of Sorrento for medical radiology and X-ray technique. The prizes, although it was equally merited by these two friends of the institution, were given to the latter.

BURSARIES AND PRIZES

Through Miss Franks, the Graduate Nurses' Association bursary for most efficient work, first year nursing, was presented to Miss Hilda Andrews, who was successful in drawing the prize, although it was equally merited by Miss Catherine Roberts, Winifred Robillard, Jean Gray, Almes MacDougall and Jean Wingard.

Mrs. Angus Campbell's bursary for most efficient work, second year nursing, was drawn by Miss Irene Madda, who was successful in drawing the prize, although it was equally merited by Misses Amy Forner, Alleen Osborne, Beattie, Alice Beattie, Theima Fagan, Hilda Barrow, Amy Olsen, Frances Trampson, Mary Berdal, Theima Kearns, Kathleen Bambrick, Iris Pike and Elizabeth Turner. Mrs. Anson made the presentation in the absence of the donor.

St. Joseph's Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary bursary for highest marks in examinations for the three years was presented by Mrs. Selma to Miss Dorothy Nixon, and Dr. Arthur Price made his annual presentation of a book to the winner of the highest marks in examination in communicable diseases, Miss Amy Forner.

TOUCHING TRIBUTE

Miss Catherine O'Brien read the very beautifully worded valedictory, in which gratitude was expressed to the sisters and the doctors who had assisted the graduates in their training and loyalty expressed to the training school. Touching tribute was paid to the late Walter S. Fraser, and to the late Angus Campbell, a life-long benefactor and supporter of the nursing school, the graduates bowing their head in silent tribute to the memory of these two friends of the institution. The valedictory was followed by the recital by the graduates in unison of their pledge and the singing of the school song, "Loyal and True."

DR. FOWLER

Dr. Fowler in his brief address to the graduates, touched upon the prevalent unemployment among nurses, which, however, he was confident, was merely a temporary condition, which would disappear with the restoration of normal conditions in the economic world. He urged the graduates to maintain the high standard and traditions imposed at St. Joseph's, and reminded them that tact and patience, cheerfulness and commonsense were almost essential to their profession as technical equipment. The welfare of the patient must always be their first consideration, and their greatest reward would lie not in financial recompense but in the knowledge of work well done, he said in wishing them all success in their chosen careers.

MAYOR ON RESPONSIBILITIES

After paying warm tribute to St. Joseph's Hospital, which he said deserved the sympathy and support of all classes and creeds of the community by virtue of the fact that it is administered not merely economically but also wholeheartedly, the Mayor told the graduates that they should

METROPOLITAN'S WIDOW PASSES

Relict of Rt. Rev. John Travers
Lewis Dies in London

Canadian Press
London, April 10.—The death of Mrs. Ada Travers Lewis at the age of ninety-one today recalled a great churchwoman who spent the greater part of her life in Canada, and was the original mover in the establishment of the Lambeth Conference—Rt. Rev. John Travers Lewis, First Bishop of Ontario, and later Metropolitan of Canada.

Mrs. Lewis was Ada Mira Leigh of Newton, Orange, Manchester. There were no children by the marriage with Annie Sherwood, daughter of Hon. Henry Sherwood, one-time Attorney-General of Canada.

Mrs. Lewis's interest in an English shop girl attracted her attention to the opportunities for aiding young girls who were in poor circumstances, and she opened a Sunday home for British and American girls in 1861. She later established other homes for girls.

Mrs. Lewis wrote a number of works on the difficulties confronting young girls and on the anomalies of the French marriage laws as affecting British subjects.

Her husband, a native of Ireland, went to Canada and spent the rest of his life there. He engaged in mission work at West Hawkesbury, in the Ottawa Valley and was rector of St. Peter's, Brockville, before he was appointed first lord bishop of the newly created diocese of Ontario. In 1893 he became Metropolitan of Canada, and he died at sea, while crossing from England to Canada, in 1901, at the age of seventy-six.

Striking Gowns Feature I.O.D.E. Fashion Show

Margaret Rocke Robertson

Parade at Empress

Gowns of Gay "Nineties"
Resuscitated to Accent
Beauty of New Modes

Women who have been bemoaning the tendency of the arbiters of to-day's fashions to hark back to the gay "Nineties," with all their inhibitions and prohibitions for inspiration were reassured yesterday afternoon when, at the fashion show staged at the Empress Hotel, the introduction of a mannequin in one of the gowns worn by our grandmothers, with its voluminous folds of stiff silk, accented the contrast between the delightfully feminine and graceful fashions of to-day worn by her associates.

While the polonaise of other days may have inspired the bustle effect of to-day, Dame Fashion has handled the inspiration so deftly as to make the new trend alluring and intriguing.

Yesterday's fashion parade was arranged by the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I.O.D.E., in aid of its funds and with the assistance of a number of leading Victoria firms. Much credit for the success of the affair is due to Mrs. L. A. Wooster, the regent, who acted as general convenor. At intervals on the programme dance and musical numbers lent pleasant diversion. Mrs. D. B. McConnan singing, "The Song of the Sea," Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin, who also acted as announcer, contributing the ever-popular "Song of Araby" (Clay), while Mrs. Doreen Wilson, partner by Mr. Jack Child, gave a spirited and graceful exhibition of the Argentine tango and one of the newest waltzes. The hotel orchestra rendered incidental music and accompanied the soloists.

Draped in deep amethyst velvet, flanked by huge baskets of apple blossom, with tall mirrors arranged as background the stage was an effective setting for the show. The Misses Daphne and Diana Ker and Josephine Wilson, being the little pages who drew the velvet curtains aside before the appearance of each group. The mannequins included Mrs. D. B. McConnan, Miss Margaret-Homer Dixon, Mrs. J. H. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. Luney, Misses Helen and Nora Wilson, Miss Barbara Twigg, and Miss Louise Hayward, while Mrs. Fraser Lester and Miss Doreen Wilson exemplified the fashions of other days.

SPORTS WEAR
Sports wear comprised the first group. Miss Helen Dixon just appearing in a two-toned, gold jersey-cloth suit. The dress sleeveless, with coat to match, the yoke white and outlined with the new "stepped" trimming, which was also used very effectively on the jacket. A beret to match, completed the costume.

Miss Nora Wilson's suit showed the trend towards rough weaves in tweed, its blue and grey tones being complemented by an over-blouse in cream crepe with "V" inset of royal blue. A cap of the same material lent a smart finish. Miss Helen Wilson's Lillamabin coat of golden tan for travel was finished with a deep mannish belt and deep slash pockets. Mrs. McConnan in a rose and grey check tweed suit of jaunty cut and Gainsboro sport hat of angora and braid, and Miss Twigg's imported Riviera suit of new lacy wool in apple green attracted much admiration.

SUITS AND COATS
In the group devoted to suits and coats one lovely model was of fine French crepe in black with a scarf collar to be worn either wrapped around the neck or allowed to hang free, giving the effect of reverse, the blouse, finished with a pointed yoke in white silk crepe, giving the "cow" effect, as an extra touch of smartness.

A three-piece suit of the new "Chongella" material in Clintonia blue, was worn with a grey fox scarf and hat to tone, while another intriguing suit for afternoon wear was of navy blue crepe, strictly tailored, and worn with one of the new tri-corne hats, and a lovely fox scarf.

Miss Louise Hayward appeared in a navy crepe ensemble with an exclusive French print gown, the same print lining the full length coat, the whole completed by a most attractive hat. Mrs. McLaughlin presented an attractive coat in skipper blue crepe with sleeves elaborately trimmed with white American braid and with a modernistic scarf to tone in the new blue shades. Miss Helen Wilson showed a smart navy tailored cut-away suit with a chic hat to harmonize and with a lovely fox scarf.

Miss Helen Wilson showed a smart navy tailored cut-away suit with a chic hat to harmonize and with a lovely fox scarf.

Afternoon gowns revealed the popularity of patterned fabrics, which tend to bold designs and brilliant colors, and the ever-popular black. This group opened with Miss Homer-Dixon showing a very handsome black chignon gown heavily beaded in the new turquoise shade and worn with a new Gainsboro hat, a turquoise necklet and dress clip adding a very charming effect.

A lovely flowered chignon in dark green tones was worn with a black lace yoke of point d'esprit and finished with a coat of the latter. Mrs. W. Luney wore a very smart flowered chignon with little short coat, showing bandings of jade.

MISS HENRI WILSON appeared to advantage in red flowered chignon with a chic little cape of the same rose peau-de-soie silk.

MISS HOMER-DIXON modeled a beautiful flowered chignon and Miss Hayward presented another lovely flowered chignon.

STRIKING EVENING GOWNS
The evening gown group was striking in its new lines and lovely materials. Mrs. McConnan's evening gown of black tulle had a rose "cap" effect at the shoulders of corded and shirred ivory silk, the corded band being cleverly carried around to outline the very deep décolletage at the back. Over this she wore a "barrel" evening cloak of black panne velvet.

MISS TWIGG wore a lovely dancing frock of pink point d'esprit lace with two frills applied in pink taffeta and crystal jewelry. Miss Nora Wilson wore a lovely pink georgette evening gown with large cape collar heavily beaded in various pastel shades, and with an ensemble of white gold necklet with pendant of square-cut aquamarine and earrings and ring to match.

Mrs. Luney modeled a lovely black lace hostess frock with divided skirt and completed with long crystal necklet and earrings. Miss Twigg appeared in an adorable pink tulle frock in all tucked effect with jewelry ensemble in Chanel crystals. Mrs. McLaughlin showed a charming black point d'esprit evening gown posed over taffeta frilled at the hemline and trimmed at the back of the waist with red Gainsboro.

The fashion show was brought to close with a tableau in which little Patsy Joan Sourrah appeared in adorable pink silk pyjamas and a silk dressing robe, being a light candle, while grouped around her were the mannequins in evening and hostess gowns.

At the evening performance Bob Webb, assisted by six pupils from Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's Russian Dancing School, contributed an amusing little skit "Mamelle."

AIR ALTITUDE RECORD BELIEVED BROKEN BY GIRL

Elinore Smith Attains Height of 32,000 Feet After Three Attempts

Roosevelt Field, New York, April 10.—Eighteen-year-old Elinore Smith, three beaten in her ascent on the women's world altitude record, swept down on this field from a twilight April sky last night with an altimeter reading of 32,000 feet.

She believed she had broken the present official record of 28,418 feet held by Ruth Nichols.

GREETINGS MOTHER
It was a happy Elinore who landed at 6:21 p.m. and was gathered into the arms of her mother, Mrs. Agnes Smith, and her father, Tom. Forgotten was the terrifying experience of a scant two weeks ago when the young air adventurer dropped 25,000 feet to land in a rough field and turn over, miraculously unharmed, from an attempt to smash Miss Nichols' record.

"When I got up to about 20,000 feet, my motor was a bit cool and I cruised around a while to warm it up," she related of her flight. "Then I climbed up to 25,000 feet and cruised some more. The air was becoming hazy as I continued upward. One of the altimeters stuck, but the other functioned perfectly as I climbed. The roof of my mouth became cold from the frigid temperature of the oxygen, but I felt fine.

SPIRALLED TO EARTH
"When the altimeter registered 32,000 feet I found I had only gasoline enough for fifteen minutes more flying. I came down in long spirals and here I am."

The nervousness she showed as she hopped off was gone. William Ward, National Aeronautical Association representative, said that preliminary examination of the barograph indicated the altimeter reading of 32,000 feet would be borne out by calibration in Washington.

Ruth Nichols sent Miss Smith the following message: "Splendid work, Elinore. Records must constantly be broken if aviation is to advance. My best congratulations."

There's No Escape
"They say your divorced wife has made up her mind to marry a struggling young lawyer."

"Well, if she has made up her mind, he might as well cease struggling."

SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO IN B. C.

But they relieve them with Minard's Liniment, according to Mrs. C. Hadden.

Naturally, this fine old white liniment which has eased Rheumatic Pain, Muscle Soreness, and Lameness is also good for Sciatica and Lumbago. Mrs. Hadden, New Westminster, B.C., thinks Minard's perfect. She wrote: "The comfort and relief my husband found for Lumbago and Sciatica by the application of Minard's Liniment was such that we have bought six bottles already. He uses it every day and gives it great praise. I shall always keep it in the house and recommend its use."

For more than 50 years, since Dr. Minard first prepared his famous "King of Pain" Liniment, Canadians everywhere have used it for rubbing out pain, for Colds, Coughs, Stomach Pains, Asthma, Chilblains, Insect Bites, Combs, Warts and innumerable other things. Minard's is also an excellent hair tonic. For ailing animals there's nothing better—anywhere!

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

BANDS AND BINDERS HAVE ENTIRELY DIFFERENT USES

One of baby's first garments is a straight, unhemmed strip of flannel cotton flannel, or knitted cotton and wool, which is wrapped about his abdomen to help anchor the navel dressing. This strip is cut about seven inches by twenty-two, which size succeeds in keeping the baby from arm-pit to groin and encircling his small abdomen about one and one-half times. It is pinned or sewed him. This is the traditional binder, and as yet we have nothing else to take its place.

In about six weeks the cord heals and drops off. The binder is discarded. This is the only one use, and by six weeks the mother has found it pretty much of a nuisance. The binder is hard to wrap tightly enough to stay smooth without being so snug as to cause baby discomfort or to encourage spitting up. If it is loose, it easily falls into wrinkles and rides up under the armpits or hangs down uselessly. At six weeks the mother should be glad to throw it away.

BANDS MORE PERMANENT

The subject of whether baby shall graduate from binders to bands is still a controversial one. Bands can be bought in all sizes, in materials from the all-cotton band to the all-wool one and every grade in between. To my notion the band is an extremely useful garment. In summer it may be the baby's only garment, for it is like a small, sleeveless shirt and holds the diaper securely with tabs at back and front. Some mothers, however, prefer to dispense with the bands and keep their babies in long-sleeved cotton shirts during the summer months. With this view have no quarrel. The desirability of bands is largely a matter of opinion and custom; the mother who likes them cannot imagine getting along without them, and the mother who does not like them sees no use for them.

When mothers ask me, "Do I have to buy both bands and binders?" I am exceedingly cautious in my replies. I suggest that they look at both in the stores, imagine baby in them, and make their own decisions.

WOOL TABOO IN SUMMER

At any rate, I hope no mother preparing for a summer baby will be guilty of buying either shirts or bands that are largely wool. We have long ceased to feel that baby must be wrapped in wool to survive the summer blasts of torrid heat. We are getting more and more accustomed to seeing babies, even when quite new, dressed in just a band and diaper or a shirt and diaper, minus stockings and petticoats and dress.

I think that one of the really noticeable advances in baby care. Within only the last ten years have mothers and nurses been courageous enough to dress a child with respect to the temperature and not according to tradition.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Washington and Brooklyn Picked to Win Major Leagues

Latter Would Be Favored in World Championship Series

Athletics' Chances Hinge on Pitching of Grove and Earnshaw

Washington Will Depend on Pitching and Brooklyn on Slugging

THE BIG GUESS

American National League
Washington Philadelphia
Cleveland New York
Detroit Chicago
St. Louis Boston

There's our annual big guess. Washington to win the American League pennant and Brooklyn to come out on top in the National League. The world baseball series? Well, for another big guess—Brooklyn. It is an annual custom for sports writers to select the two winners in the major leagues each spring and so this is our selection and we'll stand by it. Our big excuse for picking Washington Senators lies wrapped up in the arms of seven pitchers. By name they are Jones, Hadley, Crowder, Marberry, Laska, Burke and Brown. It is our belief that supported by the kind of hitting Washington did last year, these pitchers can win ninety-nine games between them. Hadley leading the parade with twenty victories. Last year Philadelphia won the pennant with 102 victories. This year, according to all signs, the race will be a lot closer, nearly every team except the New York Yankees and Athletics having made important improvements.

Exclusive of rookie pitchers the Washington staff easily could win ninety-nine games. It can be figured easily how the Senator flingers can win this number, to wit: Hadley, 20; Crowder, 18; Jones, 15; Marberry, 15; Brown, 12; Laska, 10; and Burke, 8. If they can do that, Washington should win the pennant.

Last year Grove and Earnshaw, between them, won fifty games, a great record for two men on the same staff. Can they do it again? In 1929 these two accounted for forty-four victories. Can they maintain that great pace for a third straight year? If they do, of course, all bets are off, and the Athletics appear in. But it is only reasonable to expect that one of these two is going to have a bad year sometime.

Connie Mack himself says it. At Fort Myers he admitted that if anything should happen to either Grove or Earnshaw, "it would be just too bad." Each of these men has to have a third year, we see it, for the A's to win the flag. Six of the Washington pitchers last year proved more effective than Earnshaw in point of earned run average, though Earnshaw won more games.

In the National League, to which most experts have acquired the habit of referring to as "a good minor league" since the string of triumphs rolled up by the Yankees and Athletics in world series of recent years, Brooklyn seems best. The reason as we see it is bats. When those big sticks of Herman, Dool, Wright, Fredericks and Besenbette start re-sounding, what is a National League pitcher to do?

Last year Herman hit .393, O'Doul .383, Besenbette .335, Fredericks .334 and Wright .321. There are five men with a batting average, collectively speaking, of .333. No other team in the league has five men who can approach that mark for slugging. While it is true that Wright is the only player who bats right-handed, Herman and O'Doul are lefties who can sock left-handers to stop the Brooklyn Club.

Brooklyn led the league for seventy days last season, only to fall by the wayside when unfortunate injuries to Fredericks and Bresler halted the march of the club. This year, not only has Brooklyn a great first team, composed of sluggers of the first grade, but in reserve strength the Robins are far and away better than anything else in the league. It is an all-round team that will be hard to beat. In a world series we believe a team of this nature could beat even the great pitching staff of the Washington Senators.

However, in closing we would like to state that our selections may prove all wet but at the present Washington and Brooklyn appear like the teams to beat.

Les Bain, Tacoma lightweight, and Jimmy Pavelle, Seattle, were scheduled for a four-rounder. Norman Jones, Tacoma lightweight, won from Joe Robinson, Seattle, and Billy Foster, Tacoma, welterweight, knocked out Floyd Graham, also of Tacoma, in the second round.

WOOD READY FOR ATTEMPT

U.S. Speedboat Driver Hopes to Beat Kaye Don's Mark of 103.49 Miles Per Hour

Miami Beach, Fla., April 10.—Odis Fortner, timer for the American Automobile Association, was expected here today to install electrical timing apparatus along the measured mile course, in Indian Creek for Gar Wood's attempt to regain the world speedboat record.

Wood yesterday evening said his Miss America IX was in readiness for the trial, but he did not say when he expected to make his run. He said he would wait until weather and water conditions were favorable.

The Detroit manufacturer returned to Miami Beach last Sunday to prepare his craft for the assault on the mark of 103.49 miles an hour set by Kaye Don of England, in Buenos Aires last week.

Wood piloted the Miss America IX on the Indian Creek course March 20, at an average speed of 102.56 miles an hour.

Member of Former Victoria Cougars Helps Team Defeat Tulsa Oilers 2 to 0

Pla-Mors Back in Race For American League Title; Next Game on Saturday

Kansas City, Mo., April 10.—Kansas City Pla-mors today stood two games away from their second consecutive American Hockey League title, while Tulsa Oilers need but one victory to clinch the title. Besten twice at the start of the three-of-five-game series, Pla-mors came back last night on their home ice to win by 2 to 0.

Pla-mors, who now must take two straight to top, stepped back into the play-off running by netting two goals in the third period. Pete Mitchell, former Albertan, and "Slim" Halderson, member of the world-champion Winnipeg Falcons in 1920, were the scorers. "Paddy" Byrne, Pla-mors' goalie, stretched his total of shut-outs for the season to twenty, of which three have been made since the close of the league schedule.

The next game of the series is billed Saturday at Kansas City.

A packed house of 6,500 fans witnessed the contest. With only six minutes to play in the third, McCusker, the Oiler goalie, dove out to make a stop and Mitchell, Pla-mor center, came in, grabbed the puck and slapped it in for the first score. Less than a minute later McCusker shunted the puck to one side of the cage, but McCormick passed it to Halderson, who drove it into the net.

Danny Pastore will again guard the net for the Jokers, while the hardest skating Joe Delahunty, "Ricky" Rickinson and Gran Bothwell will present a formidable defence line. Lawson Munroe, Wensley and Walker will play forwards.

Indians Nose Out Boston Bruins' Cubs 3 to 2 in Canadian-American Final

Third Title in Five Seasons; Teams Played Seven Games Instead of Five

Springfield, Mass., April 10.—Springfield Indians won the championship of the Canadian-American Hockey League and a year's lien on the Henri Fontaine Cup when they turned back Boston Bruins' Cubs by a score of 3 to 2 here yesterday evening before 7,500 people. This represented Springfield's third championship in five years of the circuit's existence.

A solo rush by Earl Seibert, tribal defence man, in the last minute of the regulation time proved the decisive tally, for Boston counted fifteen seconds later from a general scrimmage, Springfield's second goal came because of a superlative solo by Gene Carrigan, a star in this series. The championship affair required seven games in all instead of the customary five, two of the contests here having been tied and having consumed 170 minutes of playing time.

LINE-UPS
Springfield—Moore, Callighen, Seibert, Carrigan, Hestmer, Heller, Spares, Stern, Waite, Saunders, Benson, G. Grant and Wilson.

U. S. Turns to Its Younger Stars For Davis Cup Material

By Robert Edgren

Twenty-year-old Francis Shields and Nineteen-year-old Sidney Wood Selected Along With Wilmer Allison to Play Against Mexico in Opening Round of Competition Next Month; Will Also Take Part in Second Round Against Canada If Successful; Wood and Shields Playing in Series for First Time.

New York, April 10.—The United States Lawn Tennis Association has turned to the rising generation in its campaign to regain the Davis Cup, held since 1927 by France's musketeers of the racquet.

Twenty-year-old Francis X. Shields of New York, and nineteen-year-old Sidney B. Wood of the University of Arizona, definitely have been selected to represent this country in the first round cup tie with Mexico and also for the second round series with Canada, granting that Mexico is defeated.

Against Mexico the two youngsters will have the aid of the youthful "veteran" Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, a member of several recent American Davis Cup teams. Their companions in the battle with Canada will be selected later.

The Mexican series will be played at Mexico City May 1, 3 and 5, with two singles matches the first day, the doubles on May 3 and the final two singles matches on May 5. If victorious the Americans then will move to Montreal to meet Canada May 21, 22 and 23.

ARE BRILLIANT
Neither Shields nor Wood has played Davis Cup tennis but both played brilliantly in American tournaments last summer. Shields, who is ranked nationally at No. 2, just behind the national champion, John Doe, recently defeated both Jean Borotra and Christian Bousais in the indoor international team matches against France. Wood, who is ranked No. 4, just behind the twenty-six-year-old Allison, already has gained recognition as one of the foremost strategists in the game.

Allison's own great Davis Cup triumph was scored in the challenge round with France in 1929 when he and John Van Ryn of Philadelphia defeated the crack French doubles combination of Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra.

J. B. Adoue Jr. will be non-playing captain of the team for the Mexican tie and Vernon S. Frame will pilot the squad at Montreal.

OUR MAIL BAG

SUPPORTS REFEREES
To the Sports Editor:—With reference to the article in The Times on Capt. Prince-Cox, the well-known English referee, I think it is quite good as far as advice is concerned, but I sincerely hope it is not printed with the idea that the local referees are due for criticism and rebuff. I am fully convinced that the local referees endeavor to do their utmost for football without any partiality to team or teams. I think that the managers of local teams and players are very unfair to the referees and all very ready to lower the prestige of controlling officials during local games. Referees should stick together here in Victoria, back each other up. Team managers should impress on their players the necessity of abiding by decisions whether they look raw or not.

Further, I believe that had our local referees shown more promptness in penalizing players who stayed with it during the last season and this season we would see more football and less rough tactics and also greater respect for the referees.

I wonder if it is safe to go to the game on Saturday or will we get our money back if the Saanich Thistles walk off the field again. There seems a great deal of laxity in soccer here when a team is allowed to play again after last Saturday's game without any censure except a little publicity.

Avalon, Santa Catalina Island, Cal., April 10.—With the Chicago Cubs gone, another troupe of athletes—200 amateur golfers—today invade Catalina Island for a three-day medal play tournament with the Bobby Jones trophy at stake.

The invitational Robert Tyre Jones Jr., heads the list, and although he will not compete, he will deliver to the winner the large silver trophy on Sunday.

Alberta Top Champions U. I. Arms Over Series Ruling

Want Toilers Placed On Black-list For Vindictive Demands

Officials of Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta Champions, Ruled Out of Western Semi-finals Through Refusal to Play Winnipeg at Lethbridge, Declare Toilers Are High-handed in Their Attitude; Toilers Awarded Series and Right to Meet U.B.C.; Canadian Association Also Criticized.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 10.—Declaring that the Winnipeg Toilers should be blacklisted by organized basketball in Alberta if they refuse to play the championship series, Dave Powelson, manager of Raymond Union Jacks, to-day issued a statement regarding the tangle into which the hoop title series of the west has fallen.

"Twenty-four hours have elapsed," says Mr. Powelson, "and neither the Toilers nor the dominion executive have replied to the Jacks' last bid for a place in the play-downs. Owing to the high-handed and vindictive attitude of the Toilers and upheld by the dominion executive body during the past season, we think it is time Alberta was withdrawn from the Canadian Basketball Association. If ever a province has been handed a raw deal, this is one and specially in what is supposed to be amateur sport.

FAVORITES FAIL BADLY

London, April 10.—Match play in the Rochester invitation tournament, opening golf competition of the British season, began to-day with three first-flight performers in the role of mere spectators. George Duncan and Archie Compston, veterans of the golfing wars, and Young Henry Cotton all failed to make the first sixteen in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round yesterday. Cotton, who has declined to join the British Ryder Cup team, except on his own conditions, lost many a stroke on the greens and scored 144, just outside the qualifying limit.

The Rochester course stretches only a little more than 5,000 yards, but it places a premium upon accurate work with masher, masher and putter.

Arthur Perry, a youngster, showed the way to the field in the qualifying round with a pair of 68's. Pairings for the first round of match play and the qualifying scores of each player follow:

George Oke, 141, vs. H. C. Jolley, 143; R. G. Wilson, 143, vs. O. Sanderson, 143; W. T. Twine, 143, vs. M. Bingham, 142; H. C. Kirk, 142, vs. Mark Seymour, 142; R. A. Whitcombe, 138, vs. Fred Robson, 138; Arthur Perry, 136, vs. B. Hodson, 43; C. H. Gadd, 137, vs. Abe Mitchell, 137; C. A. Whitcombe, 140, vs. Aubrey Boomer.

HUSTLERS SEEK B.C. HONORS IN GAME SATURDAY

Will Battle Ryerson's Quintette of Vancouver in Sunday School Hoop Fixture

Battling Ryerson's United, crack Vancouver Sunday school intermediate "A" boy champions, the City Temple Hustlers will take the floor in search of the provincial title in that division at the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at 9 o'clock. Although playing for the first time in this division, the Hustlers have put up good exhibitions against some of the best squads in their class and are figured to have about an even break with the mainlanders.

In a preliminary fixture, the Y.M.C.A. Senior "A" men will meet the C.P.S. at 8 o'clock. Jack Taylor will referee both games. Ryerson's last year beat out the Royals in the Intermediate "B" section after a splendid battle. Since then they have moved a step higher in the Sunday School hoop division and have walked through the mainland opposition without much trouble.

ARE EXPERIENCED

With the experience they have gained in the open intermediate boys' division in this city against the High School and K. of P. the Hustlers should be able to put up a smart game against their last rivals from the mainland.

With two Sunday school titles already in Victoria the City Temple boys will give all they have in an effort to secure the majority of honors in the lower division.

The local team will line up as follows:

Bruce Macmurchie, George Robertson, Gil Fraser, Wilfred Johnson, Eddie Gibson, Bill Menzies and Albert Martin.

To-morrow at the Uplands Golf Club women members will commence play in the Darcus Cup competition. Mrs. R. A. Semple will defend her honors against a field of sixteen. The event on a full handicap basis.

Played over fifty-four holes medal competition, with handicaps deducted, some good cards will, no doubt, be turned in. The first eighteen in card to-morrow, the second round of the following Saturday and the final joint on April 25. Pairings for the first round follow:

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Prescott and Mrs. MacDonald, Mrs. Nickson and Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Daks and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. L. Archibald, Miss Wolfenden and Miss Bone, Mrs. Eve and Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Boyd and Mrs. Semple.

"Chuck" Copeland, Harry Bates, Stan Williams and Fred Harding promise to improve their showings of last year and should form a formidable group in the sprint.

Frank Aldous, Caesar Finnmore and Jack Woodley, who showed up to advantage in the recent Britannia branch Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. road race, are continuing their workouts in order to keep in shape for the Pro Patria road race on May 25.

CALENDRIA GAMES

The first big meet of the season will be held in Vancouver on July 1, when the local track artists race in the Caledonia Games.

Los Angeles and Portland Winners In Tight Battles

Bill Campbell's Home Run in Ninth Inning Gives Former 6 to 5 Victory Over Seattle; Portland Ducks Rally in Thirteenth Inning to Defeat San Francisco Seals 5 to 3; Hollywood Retains Unbeaten Record; Missions Defeat Oakland 3 to 2.

Portland, the San Francisco Missions and Los Angeles had it two out of three to-day over their respective opponents, San Francisco, Oakland and Seattle, while Hollywood remained an undefeated team as a result of yesterday's Pacific Coast League baseball games.

In a game at San Francisco which went thirteen innings, Portland emerged the victor over the Seals, 5 to 3. The Seals tied the score in the ninth, but the Beavers got the range of Henderson's fast ones in the thirteenth to pound in the winning runs.

Batteries were: Mails and Woodall for Portland; Henderson, Jacob and Baldwin, Penabazky for San Francisco.

At Oakland the Missions had a big moment in the fourth inning, when they got their three runs, thereby defeating the Oaks, 3 to 2. The inning was at the expense of Wee Lindolph, who with Bobb Hurst, managed to keep the Reds pacified the rest of the game. The batteries: Kinney, Walsh and Brenzel for the Missions; Lindolph, Hurst, Tubbs and Reed, Pool for Oakland.

HILL IS INJURED

The Hollywood stars still had a cipher in the games lost column. They beat Sacramento 9 to 5 on the latter's lot yesterday, but in the tenth inning with a five-run rally Jesse Hill injured his ankle chasing a fly ball. He may be out the rest of the season.

Batteries were: Shellenbach and Seaver for Hollywood; Hubbell, Flynn, Gillick and Koehler for Sacramento.

On the fifth inning home run with one on base, the batteries were: Biallou, Yerkes and Hanna for Los Angeles; McQuillan, Page and Gaston, Cox for Seattle.

DEMOTION IS BIG CENTRE OF INTEREST

Manchester United Will Be One of Teams to Depart From English First

Three Other Teams on Brink; Lincoln City and Tranmere Stage Great Race

London, April 10.—With the question of final leadership in all but one section of the English Soccer League virtually settled, the question agitating fans in what teams will be demoted. In the first division, Manchester United will be one of the teams to go down, while Leeds United, Blackpool and Birmingham are all on the brink. There does not look to be much chance of these clubs picking up points on Saturday as they all play away from home.

Leeds go to Bolton; Blackpool to West Ham, and Birmingham to Huddersfield.

In the Second Division, while Everton have won their promotion, Tottenham Hotspur and West Bromwich Albion must battle for second place, which also carries elevation with it. Tottenham lead the Albion by one point, but the Birmingham club have a game in hand. The next engagements take the Albion to Burnley, while the "Spurs" will be at home to Plymouth Argyle.

ANALYZES HIGH COST SICKNESS

Vancouver Hospital Head Says More Spent on Movies Than in Hospitals

Vancouver, April 10.—Taking as his subject, "The High Cost of Sickness," and telling of the many problems facing the modern hospital to-day, Dr. A. K. Haywood, general superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, addressed public health nurses attending the refresher course, in a session here at the general hospital, and is being held under the auspices of the Provincial Board of Health and the department of nursing of the University of British Columbia.

The address followed a luncheon during the noon recess and the speaker, who was introduced by Hon. Dr. H. E. Young, provincial Minister of Health, launched into the subject of hospital charges, stating that the unwarranted and unfair criticism could easily be refuted when all factors entering into such cost were thoroughly understood by the public. Urging the need of budgeting for sickness in time of health, and saying that sickness entered most homes every three years, Dr. Haywood flayed what he termed the cause of the installment plan.

People of moderate means obtained nearly everything they required on instalments, he said, but made absolutely no provision for the inevitable sickness. Neither the rich nor the very poor were troubled with hospital bills, but it was the man of moderate means who spent his money on luxuries, for, said Dr. Haywood, "in 1929 as much money was spent for cigars and cigarettes as on hospital bills, twice as much for movies and four times as much for gas and autos."

COSTS ARE INCREASING

Hospital charges have not gone up in proportion to running expenses, Dr. Haywood said, and explained the hospital employees were now in accordance with the costs of living, getting better salaries than in the past, that the cost of linen and equipment had increased and that two-thirds of hospital work was expensive surgery. During the last twenty-five years the speaker said, the average stay in the hospital had been cut by twenty-five per cent and patients returned to economic life sooner. Also life's span, through advances made in medicine and science had been lengthened by twenty years.

Dr. Haywood compared present-day hospital cost with hotel cost, pointing out the wider and greater service given in hospitals for less cost than in hotels. "To-day," he said, "people want baths, telephones and radios in their rooms, and to meet the ever-increasing demands, hospitals must give the best, and this adds to the cost of service."

ESSAY PRIZES ARE PRESENTED

Authors' Association Honors Local School Girls; Address By Miss Riddell

R. E. Knowles of Toronto was an honored guest at the April meeting of the Victoria and Islands Branch Canadian Authors' Association, held yesterday evening in the clubrooms of the Island Arts and Crafts, and was invited to present to Miss Anna Clendennan and Miss Karen Creelman the first and second prizes won by them in the all-Canadian essay competition of the Canadian Authors' Association, held in connection with the Canadian Book Week. These young students of Victoria High School and of Esquimalt High School also won first and second prizes in the local competition held by the Victoria and Islands Branch Canadian Authors' Association.

Mr. Knowles congratulated the winners in a delightful little speech, presenting Miss Clendennan with a cheque for twenty dollars, and Miss Creelman with books, to the value of ten dollars. Mrs. Clendennan and Mr. Creelman, on behalf of their daughters, thanked the speaker and the association for their interest and their gifts.

According to the annual custom of the local branch, reference was made to Marjorie Pickthall, its founder, whose death in Vancouver on April 19, 1922, is always remembered in the April meeting. The Dilworth read from Dr. Lorne Pierce's "Marjorie Pickthall, a Book of Remembrance," a paragraph from her unfinished novel "The Eastern Man," in which she describes the spring blooming of the lilies about the coasts and islands of the North Pacific. Mrs. Ebbe-Canavan, chairman, added a tribute in verse.

Marion Isabel Angus (Mrs. J. R. Angus) was warmly congratulated upon the publication of her collection of poems, under the title "Fragrant Wisdom," from which Donald A. Fraser read selections, all of which were heard with appreciation and justified the flattering criticisms this daintily-bound volume is receiving.

Miss N. T. Riddell, the speaker of the evening, gave an unusually beautiful address on "Pioneers MacLeod." Herself a poet, Miss Riddell in understating manner and voice brought to the delicate task of interpreting the work of this writer of dual and mystic nature, an appreciation and analytical charm which it would be difficult to excel. The necessity for William Sharp to have had recourse to the name Piona MacLeod, through which he might better express the intuitive, sensitive, psychic qualities of a woman's soul was amply justified by the speaker, who found in the prose of this gifted writer far more of poetry than in his more fantastic verse. The deep underlying religion and the cult of the beauty and sadness and tragedy of nature and humanity were shown in the extracts and outlines of the plots of lovely romances, given with the natural charm of the true Celt. The early life and training of the author, so strongly influenced by his old Hebridean nurse "Barbul," and the old islander, Seumas MacLeod, who at sunrise "doffed his bonnet to the beauty of the world," were sketched with a sympathetic hand. "From the Hills of Dream," his book of poems, brief quotations were also made.

Miss Riddell was thanked by the chairman, for her eloquent address. Rev. Dr. Unsworth, D. Fraser, R. E. Knowles, H. A. Sutherland and Alfred Carmichael contributing to the interesting discussion which followed.

The CANADA STARCH CO., Limited MONTREAL

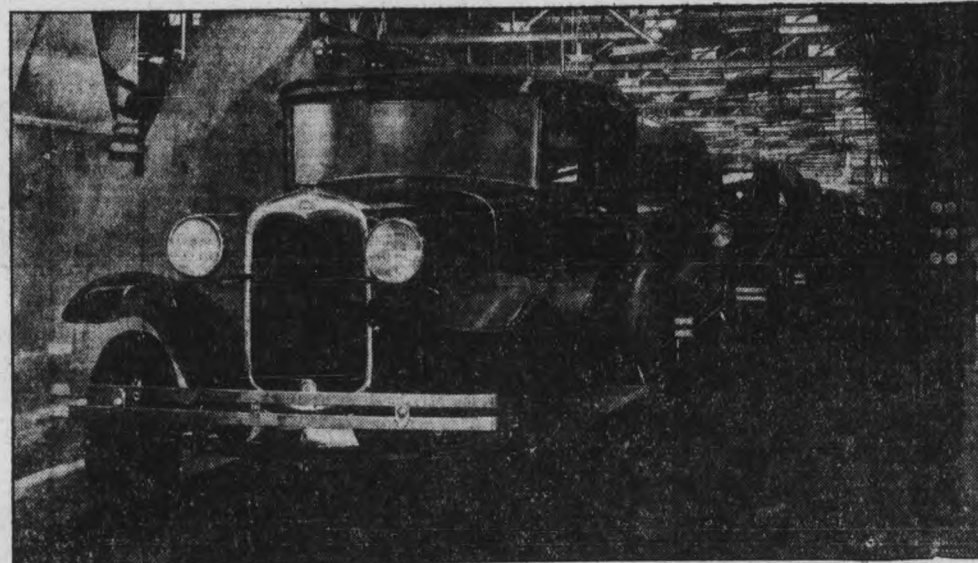

One Million Ford Cars have been made in Canada

The Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, was organized in 1904. The business was started in a small frame building, with a force of seventeen men. The first year's production was only 117 cars.

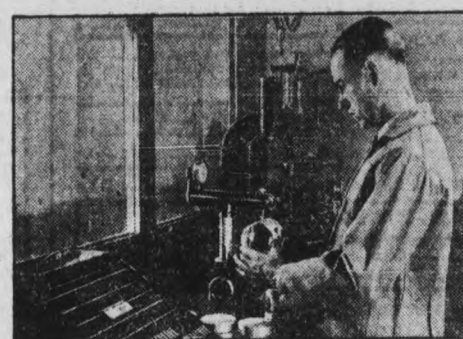

Because of the value built into its products for the past twenty-seven years, the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has become one of the largest industrial organizations in the Dominion. In March of this year the millionth Ford made in Canada came off the assembly line and was delivered to a Ford owner.

This achievement is of particular importance to the people of this country because the Canadian Ford car is made almost entirely of Canadian materials and by Canadian workmen.

During the past ten years the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has paid out in Canada more than $95,000,000 in wages and more than $201,000,000 for materials and services. In 1929 and 1930 alone the company's payroll exceeded $22,000,000. In addition, employment was furnished to

The final assembly line of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, at East Windsor.

The new Ford is made with unusual care. The connecting-rods are not permitted to vary more than four one-thousandths of an inch in length. Every crankshaft is statically and dynamically balanced, with a minimum of 174 checks for accuracy. Wrist-pin holes in the pistons are diamond bored and held true in diameter to a limit of two ten-thousandths of an inch. Ford valve stems are held exact in diameter to within one one-thousandth of an inch along their entire length. From the seat to the mushroom end there is never a variation of more than two one-thousandths of an inch.

thousands of other workmen through the expenditure of $40,000,000 for Canadian materials and services. To the end of 1929 more than 72% of the total earnings of the company had been reinvested in the business.

Throughout the years, the policy of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, has been to provide greater and greater value at lower cost to the public. Every purchaser shares the benefit of the Ford low-profit policy and the economy and efficiency of its manufacturing methods.

As the company has grown in size, its position of leadership has become more and more evident. Today, the Ford leads every other automobile in Canada by a large and increasing margin. In many sections between 50% and 70% of all cars sold are Model A Fords.

People everywhere—in city, town and country—are purchasing the Ford because they know it is a value far above the price. Long continuous service emphasizes the value of its simplicity of design and the substantial worth that has been built into it.

PARLIAMENTS NO LONGER HOLD POWER

"Invisible Empires" of Commerce Hold Real Control of Politicians, Laski Declares
Democracies Failing, But Dictatorships Worse; Business Men Unfit to Rule

New York, April 10.—The "invisible empires" of commerce are the real powers behind the governments of to-day, while parliaments have become merely "interesting and attractive assemblies" for the self-expression of the personalities of their members, Harold J. Laski, Professor of Political Science in the University of London, said in a discussion of parliamentary government and dictatorship at a luncheon of the Foreign Policy Association at the Hotel Astor.

But while Professor Laski was pessimistic as to the ability of parliamentary governments to control the "invisible forces" controlling them, he saw even less hope in the replacement of democracy by dictatorships, which he said had nothing to offer.

Dr. Josef Redlich, former Minister of Finance, also saw dictatorship as a passing phase growing out of an era of transition and as offering no hope for the solution of the pressing economic problems of the present.

James G. McDonald of the Foreign Policy Association was chairman of the discussion.

"Forms of self-government of nations no doubt will be changed in many respects, but the fundamental principles of the rights of man, of responsible government, of strict legality in legislation and administration and the primacy of national law and interests will stand paramount and indestructible toward all experiments of nationalist and communist dictatorship," said Dr. Redlich, who is a duty judge of the Permanent Court of International Justice and Professor of Comparative Public Law at Harvard University.

Professor Laski, while he seemed to despair of making parliaments an effective expression of the public will, was equally critical of the abilities of business men to govern effectively and well.

"I am not an admirer of business men," he said. "Their supposed practical qualities are in fact impractical and they do not know how to bring about a stable society. A theorist on government knows that he is acting on assumptions in formulating his theories, but the practical man does not know that he is doing the same thing. The theorist must come along to clean up the mess the business man leaves."

Professor Laski said he knew of no case for democracy that could not be demolished in ten minutes, but on the other hand no alternative to democracy could stand up for even five minutes. Ultimately the will of the people must be considered.

Dr. Redlich explained what he called "a certain lack of authority" of German parliamentarism as a result of the manner in which democratic government developed in that country, saying that the constitutional government by a hereditary monarch is considered as the normal form of government by large masses.

"Dictatorship in Europe, far from being the only alternative of temporary decay of parliamentarism," he said, "must be understood as a temporary and exceptional phenomenon of a society shaken to the roots by the war, by its economic and social consequences, and in certain cases by a radical nationalism, under whose cover ideas of revenge or of national aggression are appearing."

In England the triumph of dictatorship seems an impossibility, he went on, and on the continent it promises no lasting success. It is in the case of an era of transition should be accompanied by hopes for the application of force, he held, but said that these hopes run counter to the whole European political development since the eighteenth century.

Material Witness To Be Paid $600

Halifax, Ont., April 10.—Arrested last June as a material witness in connection with the death of Kalle Pukki, New Canada, who was stabbed, Olli Pantilla, a compatriot of Pukki's, was jailed when he was unable to furnish a $500 bond. There he stayed till this week. Yesterday he learned during the trial of Kalle Pukki, charged with the murder of Pukki, that he would be compensated for his long incarceration.

Pantilla will be paid at the rate of $2 a day. He was confined in jail for ten months. The Ontario government therefore will pay him approximately $600, so Pantilla does not feel so badly about it now.

"Most extraordinary," remarked Mr. Justice Garrow when the prosecuting counsel revealed the amount to be paid for detention of Pantilla.

Ancient Numbers

AMONG THE ROMANS

The ancient Romans used a number system fairly well known to us.

For "1" the Romans used "I." For "2" they used "II." "Five" was written "V" and "10" by "X."

On public buildings, we often see Roman numbers cut in cement or stone. If we know how to read them, we may learn when the buildings were put up.

Suppose the building might have the letters "MCM." Those letters would equal "1900." Another building might have the letters "MDCCII," which should be read "1703." In England, the letters "MCM" are often found on buildings.

The Roman system now commonly used gives "I" for "1," "II" for "2," "III" for "3," "IV" for "4," and "V" for "5." "VI" for "6," "VII" for "7," "VIII" for "8," "IX" for "9," and "X" for "10."

When Romans placed a number before a larger number, it meant that the first number should be subtracted. Thus "IV" equals "4," and "CM" equals "900."

When a Roman placed a number after a larger number, the numbers were added. Thus "VII" made "7" and "MCM" made "1900."

I trust all these figures are not making you dizzy. If you use paper and pencil, you may figure out many numbers for yourself.

Members of Uncle Ray's Scrapbook Club may get together and see how many of our common numbers they can change into Roman numbers. They may also test themselves by reading numbers on buildings.

School pupils may take this article to school and ask the teacher to have Roman numbers during the arithmetic period.

Under the Roman system, "400" may be written "CDCC" or "CD." The shorter form is usually preferred.

CHICAGO COME FROM BEHIND TWO GOALS TO WIN IN OVERTIME

For the next two minutes Hawks had all they could do to keep the speedy Canucks out. At full strength again Cook and Marsh worked a triple pass inside the Canadian blue line that was cleverly executed, but was spoiled by George Mantha.

Both teams were shifting their men regularly, except for Burke and Mantha, who went without relief. Gus Rivers lifted a high pass out of the Chicago corner, but Gardiner handled it. Hawks shot well, Chicago did put the puck in the net, but the whistle had gone for an offside. Sylvio Mantha dropped Marsh at the defence and went off.

SECOND PERIOD

Barely had the second period opened when the Black Hawks burst in and Tommy Cook fired high. Hainsworth took the puck from the nose, which bled copiously. He retired to the dressing room. After approximately ten minutes with a stich or two holding together the cut.

Adams stockpiled his way brilliantly between the Canadian defence, but his forward pass to Cook went astray and Gagnon relieved. On the next play Gagnon and Sylvio Mantha sandwiched Taffy Abel, and Adams, leading to the goal mouth, but could not get his shot away.

Hainsworth himself probably did not know how he saved from Romans, who shot from two feet out.

Then came Canadians' second goal. Pete Lepine shot from the blue line and skated fast between the defence to snare the puck. He circled Gardiner's net and finding no chance himself flicked the puck out to George Mantha, who sent it back high and true into the net.

Coach Irvin sent four men into Canadians' end for a desperate attempt, but sturdy defensive work relieved Hainsworth of more pressure than he could handle. Ripley, Couture and Gotsell spent a full minute in the Canadian end and a wild scramble for the rubber resulted, in which the Hawks were beaten back into Adams, Cook and March, the best scoring threat for Chicago, dribbled their way deep into Hainsworth's territory where again George ably saved from Cook. When Cook and Bostrum were penalized Cecil Hart sent on four forwards. Five Canucks went on an attack from which Adams broke loose to race the length of the ice, followed by Jollat, who checked with a high stick and was penalized.

THIRD PERIOD

Both teams were one short when the third period opened, but Bostrum returned after a few seconds to give Chicago a man advantage. Canadians tested the puck up the ice to keep the attack out. Cook got away a sizzling shot which Hainsworth caught and threw to one side, his toss bouncing off the goalpost.

Moreno drove through alone twice in an effort to get the elusive tally he was seeking, but he was checked by Jollat and hurriedly he shot. Chicago sent waves of men, four abreast, up the ice but they found a Canadian defence that was backchecking perfectly and a sound defence. Arbour's pass out from behind the nets looked dangerous but Marty Burke nabbed it and shot the puck the length of the ice. Jollat kept almost continuously in Canadians' end with Pete Lepine and Burke performing the heroes' role in saving.

Jollat's foot covered the corner in front of March's drive from right wing. Sylvio Mantha took another penalty. His fourth of the game, for cutting down the lead of the leading Hawks. Lesieur, joined Mantha in the box and Jollat, Burke and Lepine were left to face a full team. Canadians were slamming the puck away at every opportunity.

With eight minutes to go the Hawks took off a defenceman and shot four forwards into action.

The defencemen came with dramatic suddenness. Gotsell broke at the blue line and slipped a forward pass to Little Mush March, who raced right in on Hainsworth and shot the puck into the goal. Hainsworth's foot was in the net, but he was unable to stop it.

Cook was banished for tripping but the weakened Hawks held on in the face of a blistering four-man attack. Although Chuck Gardiner was hurt in a rush on Jollat missed the net by a fraction. Gardiner retired to the side nursing his rear. He returned and the game went into overtime.

OVERTIME PERIOD

The overtime period under way with tricky swerving one-man rushes which rarely penetrated the defences. Taffy Abel almost ended the whole thing with a high shot from centre ice which Hainsworth parried, not to have seen until it was six feet away from Tim. He moved fast and covered the puck. Gotsell, Couture and Romans swept the defence to snare the puck. He circled Gardiner's net and finding no chance himself flicked the puck out to George Mantha, who sent it back high and true into the net.

Taffy Abel almost ended the whole thing with a high shot from centre ice which Hainsworth parried, not to have seen until it was six feet away from Tim. He moved fast and covered the puck. Gotsell, Couture and Romans swept the defence to snare the puck. He circled Gardiner's net and finding no chance himself flicked the puck out to George Mantha, who sent it back high and true into the net.

Coach Irvin sent four men into Canadians' end for a desperate attempt, but sturdy defensive work relieved Hainsworth of more pressure than he could handle. Ripley, Couture and Gotsell spent a full minute in the Canadian end and a wild scramble for the rubber resulted, in which the Hawks were beaten back into Adams, Cook and March, the best scoring threat for Chicago, dribbled their way deep into Hainsworth's territory where again George ably saved from Cook. When Cook and Bostrum were penalized Cecil Hart sent on four forwards. Five Canucks went on an attack from which Adams broke loose to race the length of the ice, followed by Jollat, who checked with a high stick and was penalized.

THIRD PERIOD

Both teams were one short when the third period opened, but Bostrum returned after a few seconds to give Chicago a man advantage. Canadians tested the puck up the ice to keep the attack out. Cook got away a sizzling shot which Hainsworth caught and threw to one side, his toss bouncing off the goalpost.

Moreno drove through alone twice in an effort to get the elusive tally he was seeking, but he was checked by Jollat and hurriedly he shot. Chicago sent waves of men, four abreast, up the ice but they found a Canadian defence that was backchecking perfectly and a sound defence. Arbour's pass out from behind the nets looked dangerous but Marty Burke nabbed it and shot the puck the length of the ice. Jollat kept almost continuously in Canadians' end with Pete Lepine and Burke performing the heroes' role in saving.

Jollat's foot covered the corner in front of March's drive from right wing. Sylvio Mantha took another penalty. His fourth of the game, for cutting down the lead of the leading Hawks. Lesieur, joined Mantha in the box and Jollat, Burke and Lepine were left to face a full team. Canadians were slamming the puck away at every opportunity.

With eight minutes to go the Hawks took off a defenceman and shot four forwards into action.

The defencemen came with dramatic suddenness. Gotsell broke at the blue line and slipped a forward pass to Little Mush March, who raced right in on Hainsworth and shot the puck into the goal. Hainsworth's foot was in the net, but he was unable to stop it.

Cook was banished for tripping but the weakened Hawks held on in the face of a blistering four-man attack. Although Chuck Gardiner was hurt in a rush on Jollat missed the net by a fraction. Gardiner retired to the side nursing his rear. He returned and the game went into overtime.

CHILD KILLED BY SPEEDER AT PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, April 10.—An accident on Thursday afternoon at camp 3 of the Alberni Pacific Lumber Company took the life of three-year-old Emmett Lawry.

Mrs. Agnes Lawry, accompanied by her children, had come to Port Alberni to obtain household supplies and was returning home on the camp bus. The speeder had stopped in front of her house and after assisting the two children down she had placed them on the doorstep while she proceeded to take the supplies into the house.

Little Emmett climbed down from the steps and, unknown to the crew of the speeder, toddled up the track in search of wild flowers.

A few minutes later the speeder, continuing on its journey, ran over the little fellow, killing him instantly. When his body was picked up a hand still grasped a few spring flowers.

A. Lawry, the father, is a member of the camp crew.

Regina, April 10.—Various points of attack on the Saskatchewan Grain Act of 1931 were outlined by Col. J. A. Cross, K.C., chief counsel for the Association Opposing a Compulsory Grain Pool, when arguments on the validity of the act were heard by the Saskatchewan Court of Appeal here this forenoon.

His grounds, similar to those heard yesterday, were that the act:

Interferes with trade and commerce, a function of the Dominion Government.

Regulates conduct of people outside province, a thing beyond the control of the Saskatchewan Legislature.

Purports to create a company with other than provincial rights.

Interferes with the status of Dominion companies.

Mr. Cross claimed the act could also be attacked as ultra vires as it was repugnant to the Canada Grain Act, and as it violated that jurisdiction in respect to criminal law assigned to the Dominion Parliament.

C.P.R. PLANS TO DEVELOP LONG BEACH

Nanaimo Reports Indicate Large Sum May Be Spent There and Highway Built

When President E. W. Beatty of the C.P.R. sailed around Vancouver Island on the Princess Norah last summer he was greatly impressed with Long Beach, that great stretch of even sand on the West Coast which is claimed to rival Daytona Beach in Florida.

At the time of the cruise it was reported that the C.P.R. might consider the development of Long Beach as a resort.

Reports received from Nanaimo today indicate that this development may take place, the sum of $50,000,000 being mentioned as the amount of the proposed expenditure.

The report goes on to say that it is proposed to lay the ocean cable from Nanaimo to Long Beach and that work is to be commenced shortly in the clearing of the land.

The development of Long Beach and the clearing of the land there, as reported from Nanaimo, is stated to be a shadow of the building of a road through to the West Coast point by the government.

Will Short-order Divorce Help Marriage Problem? Thinks Long-drawn-out Divorce Better

"A Year's Time in Which to Think Things Over, in Which to See How Small Were the Faults of Which We Made So Much, Would Save Many a Divorce, Declares Dorothy Dix"

I DO NOT think that the new short-order divorce which is being inaugurated in some of the States will make for any good or do anything to solve the problem of how to be happy though unmarried. My idea is that instead of speeding up divorce it should be made a long-drawn-out process that would give both parties time to get over their "mad" at each other and to mull over their differences and decide whether they really, after all, wanted a divorce or not.

If, after a year's separation and experience and calm contemplation of the situation they still had a yen for divorce, let them have it, with no washing of dirty linen in public, no necessity for scandalizing each other and bringing shame upon their children's name. The best reason on earth for a husband and wife parting from each other is because they are miserable living together.

No morality is served by forcing a man and woman to continue a relationship that they loathe, and when a couple get to the place where they hate each other, where they bring out all that is worst in each other's natures, where they quarrel like cat and dog and where they look forward to each other's death with eager anticipation, the only decent thing for them to do is to sever all relationship with each other.

For children to be brought up in a home in which the father and mother are enemies and in an atmosphere of perpetual strife is almost as great a crime as if they murdered them, because they do kill in them all of the joy of childhood, all of their belief in the sanctities of life. They warp their characters and their minds and make of them neurotics who have to pay as long as they live for their parents' lack of self-control and self-discipline.

Far better for a child to have one parent or no parents at all than for it to have a father and mother who fight. Far better for a child to be brought up in an orphan asylum than in a house whose atmosphere is surcharged with the deadly miasmas of hate and anger.

There are many cases where divorce is a righteous thing, but there are far more cases in which it is just a fool thing. A husband and wife get fed up with each other and decide that they no longer love one another. Or they get bored with domesticity and get to thinking how fine it would be to be free again. Or they get jealous and imagine things. Or they have a quarrel and neither one will give in. And they rush off to the divorce court while they are still bored or still smarting with hurt vanity or still in a furious temper, and they have got their decree before they have time to cool off or take a sober second thought.

And to their surprise, to their utter amazement and bewilderment, most of them find that divorce is the most disappointing thing on earth. It isn't in the least what it was cracked up to be or what they expected it to be. They thought it would be some sort of a panacea for what ailed them and they would be perfectly happy when they got it. They thought that if they got a divorce nobody would ever rile them again and everything would be smooth and peaceful. They thought that a divorce would somehow make them young and good-looking again and lighthearted and gay and put them back just where they were before they married.

None of this happens. The man who was so anxious for a divorce finds that he misses the home that he was so eager to kick over. He misses his children and he finds that other women have their faults just as his Maria had. Even the man who thinks he is in love with the other woman gets disillusioned with her, too, when he sees her at close range. Anyway, Maria's virtues brighten as they fade, and if a man had a whole year in which to let the galled places where double harness had rubbed him sore get well, nine times out of ten he would go back and gladly run his neck into the same old collar.

The woman who was bound and determined to divorce her husband thinks that it would bring her a second bite of romance, that it would make her a flapper and men would flock about her and that she would eventually get a fairy prince for her No. 2. But she finds out that millionaires are not hunting up middle-aged divorced ladies handicapped with a bunch of brats. She finds out that bosses are far more cantankerous to get along with than husbands.

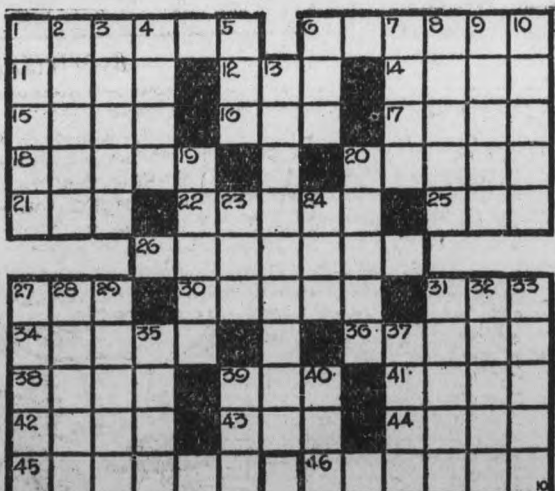

She finds out that while her family pitied and "poor-Maryed" her while she was married, they have a mighty cold welcome for her when she comes back to them with her children to be supported. And so if she were given a year's experience of what divorce really means to a woman, ninety-nine times out of a hundred she would swallow her pride and crawl back to her husband on her knees.

A year's time in which to think things over, in which to see how small were the faults of which we made much, in which to realize our own errors, in which to remember kindnesses and sacrifices and little tendernesses, believe me, it would save many a divorce. We have tried a lot of other remedies for the divorce evil. Let's see what the absent cure will do for it.

L. A. Wooster and W. T. Thorne, Who Have Established a Type of Retail Shoe Store, Handling Women's Shoes Exclusively, Which Has Never Been Seen Before in Victoria.

Inaugurating an entirely new form of foot and shoe service in Victoria, Messrs. L. A. Wooster and W. T. Thorne, D.S.C., announce the opening of "The Cinderella Shoe Salon," at 1310 Douglas Street. Carrying a stock of ladies' shoes exclusively, the partners emphasize the fact that a low price will be adhered to throughout, the high standard of decoration and service making no difference in the charges. The arrangement and decoration is as tasteful as novel, there being no shoes actually on display, though a large stock will be kept in the back. The forefront of the salon will be furnished with comfortable chairs and deep carpets, while the walls carry a modernistic design of black fresco work on rose background. In another room is the chiropody department, giving specialized service in this line.

The stock carried will include "Corrective" shoes and arch supports. Both partners are exceptionally well qualified for the positions they hold. Mr. Thorne, D.S.C., has had over ten years' experience with The Thorne Shoe Shoppe, under his father's management. He has made an intensive study of the science of foot correction and chiropody. Mr. L. A. Wooster, who has also spent years in the same line of business in this city, has qualified among the foremost ranks of foot specialists. He is well known through his secretaryship to the Westholme Softball League, and is prominent as a member of the Manufacturers' bowling team.

COD LIVER OIL POULTRY FOOD

Many Beneficial Results on Chickens When the Oil is Mixed With Meal

In a pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, a special study of the value of cod liver oil for poultry is presented. This is a valuable pamphlet for any poultry-keeper to have, and is available without charge from the publications branch of the department at Ottawa.

The value of cod liver oil in a poultry ration arises through the supply of Vitamin D content which it ensures. Some of the reasons why it should be fed are summarized in the pamphlet as follows:

The use of cod liver oil is shown to have increased egg production by approximately four eggs per bird per month; the addition of cod liver oil to the ration has no influence on the average weight of eggs produced; the hatchability of eggs was increased by fifteen per cent by the use of cod liver oil; the death rate of the chicks hatched was reduced by ten per cent by feeding cod liver oil to the breeding stock.

Cod liver oil may be fed daily in the moist mash or mixed in the dry mash that is kept before the birds continuously. Mixed cod liver oil with a flaky meal like bran and then mixing the oil-laden bran with the remainder of the meal will ensure an even distribution of oil. But cod liver oil tends to become rancid and unpalatable if left exposed to sunshine or heat. Large quantities of a mixture of meal and oil should not be kept on hand during the warm weather.

Fund of $50,000 Will Be Available for Unemployed Here

Mayor Anscomb yesterday afternoon affixed his signature to the city's new unemployment relief agreement with the Provincial Government which provides for a total expenditure of $50,000 additional for relief work here. Of this amount the city contributes $25,000 and the Federal and Provincial Governments each give $12,500.

OTTAWA DENIES CLAIMS MADE BY DEPORTEES

Immigration Officials Say People Sent Back to Britain Not Ill-treated

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 10.—Contradiction of charges of ill-treatment of deportees was made here yesterday by the Department of Immigration in a statement issued to the press. Charges were made by members of a party of deportees which landed in England three days ago from the liner Ausonia.

Issuing of the statement was believed to be unique, as it has been the customary policy of the department not to come to its own defence when attacked by deportees or immigrants.

The statement said in part: "An unnamed man claims to have fought in the Boer and Great Wars and to have been in Canada so long that he lost touch with his relatives in England and on the return trip was fed on salmon and tinned beef sandwiches. This is Henry Meyrick, a British pensioner, physically defective, who had done nothing but odd jobs for twenty-six years."

"He entered Canada from the United States and enlisted at New Westminster in 1915, but was discharged two months later as medically unfit and returned to the United States. This returned to the United States. This man constituted his Great War service. He became a public charge at Kamloops in December last, admitted he had suffered for many years from an incurable kidney trouble and when ordered deported declined to appeal, and asked to be returned to England. The department provided him with a tourist sleeper from Kamloops to Halifax."

RICHARDSON FAMILY

"The Richardson family claims to have been deported after five years' fruitless search for farm work and after having been treated like criminals. The Richardson family arrived in Canada in May, 1926, for settlement under the 3,000-family scheme. They were placed on a farm near Prince Albert, Sask., which they left in February, 1928, because Mr. Richardson was unable to carry on through a recurrence of his war disability. He secured work for one year in Prince Albert and gave it up for the same reason."

"When ordered deported he declined to appeal and asked to be sent home as he thought his family could live better there on his pension. The family was returned from Prince Albert to England in exactly the same class, both rail and steamship, as it had come to Canada, and at the cost of the Dominion government."

ROAMED ABOUT

"William Henry Barraclough claims to have had his photograph published as a criminal because he asked a Royal Canadian Mounted policeman to arrest him. This man came to Canada in 1929, a British Ministry of Labor trainee. He was placed on several farms, did not save his wages, and almost immediately on becoming unemployed became a public charge in Regina last autumn. Instead of remaining in the relief camp, he roamed the country, was picked up and sentenced to thirty days for vagrancy. His story about the publication of his photograph is a myth."

Portable Hog Cabins

Practical equipment is best suited to the raising of hogs, experts of the Dominion Experimental Farms find, and the essential characteristic of the new type of all-year hog cabin which is recommended for general farm use is essentially practical. It is portable, durable and strong, cool and comfortable for summer use yet capable of providing adequate shelter for winter; it accommodates four or five brood sows, and it is economical and easy to build. Complete plans and specifications are provided in special circular 78, available without charge on application to the publications branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

Pattern Selection CONTEST

April 11th to May 1st

$1,600 IN PRIZES

How the Contest will be Judged

Here is a contest worth anybody's time. It is interesting, instructive; yet simple. You don't have to purchase goods or fulfill any special conditions to enter it.

Any time between April 11th and May 1st . . . the earlier the better . . . just drop into the nearest floor covering store displaying Dominion Inlaid Linoleum or Floor Coverings in its window and ask for a free Contest Book. The dealer will sign the back page of this book and hand it to you . . . thus making your entry official.

The book illustrates eight rooms in full colour excepting the floors, which are blank white space. In the back of the book you will find reproduced in full colour all the Dominion Inlaid Linoleum Patterns.

All you have to do is, study the patterns and select one for each room, marking the pattern numbers in space provided on the back page of the Contest Book; sign the page; tear it out and mail it to Contest Dept., Dominion Oilcloth & Linoleum Company Limited, Montreal on or before May 1st.

The eight eminent interior decorators whose pictures are shown above, have each been assigned one room and have chosen a pattern for it. Their selections are deposited with The Royal Trust Company, Montreal. Each interior decorator is in complete ignorance of the other seven selections. In fact, the complete choice cannot be known until the eight selections are withdrawn from The Royal Trust Company on May 7th.

Your eight-room selection will then be compared with the combined secret selection of the eight interior decorators. Selections coming closest to the eight interior decorators will win the first prize. The other prizes will be awarded in order. In event of ties, the prizes will be divided. Winners will be announced on June 1st.

This contest is a TEST of TASTE. Study each room carefully. Consider the colouring of drapes and furniture. Consider the nature of the room itself. Then, decide which pattern you would like best on the floor.

Look for a store with a Dominion Inlaid Linoleum or Floor Covering window display. There you can enter this Contest and obtain contest books.
